1 READING & SPEAKING

a. What kind of food or dishes do you associate with these countries?

The United States  China  France
Italy  Japan  Mexico

b. Read the interviews with Alice and Jacqueline. Match the questions with their answers.

We talk to women around the world about their relationship with food.

1. Is food a pleasure for you?
2. What do you normally eat in a typical day?
3. Do you ever cook?
4. Do you ever eat 'unhealthy' food? How do you feel about it?
5. Are you trying to cut down on anything at the moment?
6. Are people's diets in your country getting better or worse?

Alice Freeman is a lawyer from San Francisco.

A. I think people are trying to improve their diets, but they are doing it the wrong way by following diets like the Atkins diet. Personally, I don't think it's very healthy to cut out entire groups of foods like carbohydrates.

B. Not very often. I don't have the time or talent to cook full meals. I usually heat up a frozen meal or order a takeaway.

C. Sometimes I get fast food for lunch. I have to admit that I love French fries. I feel terrible about it afterwards, but I don't do it very often.

D. I usually have a bowl of cereal or toast for breakfast. For lunch I eat at a restaurant near my office. I prefer Japanese or Indian food. I usually eat rice with fish and vegetables, soup or sushi. I don't eat meat, but I eat a lot of fish. In the evening, I just have something light at home.

E. I am trying to cut down on the amount of fat I eat. I'm also trying to eat more wholemeal bread.

F. Not really. I enjoy certain kinds of food, but most meals are just fuel to keep me going through the day.

Jacqueline Fabre is an IT consultant from Lyons.

A. Yes, I cook every evening for my family. I often make soup or traditional French dishes like 'boeuf bourguignon', which is a kind of beef and red wine stew, and then we have cheese and salad. It may seem a lot but we don't eat big portions. What's important for me is quality, not quantity.

B. Yes, I'm trying to eat less chocolate.

C. I think people's diets are getting worse and worse. It's quite strange because we have a lot of information now about how bad fast food is for you. I'm afraid it's a problem in a lot of European countries.

D. Not at home. I think most of the food I cook is healthy, but occasionally when I eat out I have something unhealthy, but it doesn't worry me.

E. Yes, definitely. For me good meals with the family make me happy!

F. I'm quite traditional and I have three main meals a day. For breakfast, I like hot chocolate, and bread and butter with honey or jam. For lunch, I often eat in a restaurant with my colleagues. I usually have vegetables and meat or fish but I love pasta and rice too. In the afternoon, I have fruit with biscuits or a piece of chocolate. In the evening, I have a proper meal with my family.
c Read the interviews again and answer the questions below. Write A (Alice), J (Jacqueline), or B (both of them).

Who...?
1 often eats in restaurants ______
2 eats quite a lot of sweet things ______
3 eats ready-prepared food ______
4 cooks big meals at home ______
5 enjoys eating ______
6 feels bad when she eats unhealthily ______
7 is trying to eat less of something ______
8 prefers having good food to having a lot of food ______
9 is negative about eating habits in her country ______

5 enjoys eating ______
6 feels bad when she eats unhealthily ______
7 is trying to eat less of something ______
8 prefers having good food to having a lot of food ______
9 is negative about eating habits in her country ______

d Match the highlighted words or phrases with the definitions.

1 ________ to have a meal in a restaurant, not at home
2 ________ a sweet food made by bees, which people often eat on bread
3 ________ the quantity you eat of a kind of food during a meal
4 ________ to make cold food hot
5 ________ food you buy from a restaurant to eat at home
6 ________ food from animals or plants used for cooking, e.g. oil, butter, etc.
7 ________ food prepared in a particular way, e.g. sushi, lasagne, etc.
8 ________ made from brown flour
9 ________ a liquid food, often made of vegetables, e.g. tomatoes, onions
10 ________ meat cooked for a long time in liquid, usually with vegetables e Which of the two women do you think has the healthier diet? Why?

f Now interview each other with the questions from 1b. How similar are your eating habits?

Is food a pleasure for you?

Yes, definitely, I love eating.

2 GRAMMAR present simple and continuous, action and non-action verbs

Rumiko Yasuda is a magazine editor from Tokyo. Japan a 1. Listen to Rumiko answering questions 2–6 from the interviews. Do you think food for her is fuel or pleasure? Why?

b Listen again and answer the questions.
1 What does she usually have in the morning?
2 Where does she usually have lunch and dinner?
3 Why doesn’t she often cook?
4 Does she eat or drink anything unhealthy?
5 Is she cutting down on anything at the moment? Why (not)?
6 What’s happening to the Japanese diet at the moment?
7 Does she think this is a completely bad thing?

c Look at some of the things Rumiko said. Circle the correct form. Then compare with a partner and say why the other form is wrong.
1 I don’t usually have I’m not having breakfast at work.
2 I used to go to fast food restaurants, but now I prefer I am preferring eating something healthier.
3 I am drinking I drink a lot of coffee every day.
4 I think Japanese people get I are getting fatter.
5 I like I’m liking the fact that there are more different kinds of food and restaurants now.

d p.130 Grammar Bank 1A. Read the rules and do the exercises.

e Make questions to ask your partner with the present simple or continuous. Ask for more information.

What / usually have for breakfast?
How many cups of coffee / drink a day?
Where / usually have lunch?
How often / eat out a week?
/ prefer eating at home or eating out?
/ need to buy any food today?
/ you hungry? / want something to eat?
/ take any vitamins or food supplements at the moment?
/ try to eat healthily at the moment?
3 VOCABULARY  food and restaurants

c  p.157 Sound Bank. Look at the typical spellings for /u/ and /u:/.
d  Listen and check.
e  Look at the information box. How do phonetic symbols in a dictionary help you pronounce words correctly?

▲ Pronouncing difficult words
Some words are difficult to pronounce because 1  they have a 'silent' syllable or letter, e.g. vegetables /'vedʒtəblz/
2  some letters are pronounced in an unusual way e.g. steak /streɪk/
3  you aren't sure where the stress is, e.g. dessert /dɪzərt/f  p.157 Look at some more food words which are difficult to pronounce. Use the phonetics to practise saying them correctly. Then listen and check.

2  What vegetables would you like with your steak?
3  Do you want yoghurt or chocolate mousse for dessert?
4  I take two spoonfuls of sugar in my coffee.
5  Sausages and biscuits aren't very good for you.
6  Would you like a fruit juice?
5 LISTENING

a Have you ever tried English food? What did you think of it?

b Kevin Poulter, an English chef, has just opened a restaurant in Santiago, the capital of Chile. Listen to an interview with him and number the photos 1-5 in the order he mentions them.

c Listen again and answer the questions.
1 Why did he decide to open a restaurant in Chile?
2 Why did he call it Frederick's?
3 Why were Chilean people surprised when he opened his restaurant?
4 What English dishes does he serve in his restaurant? Are they popular?
5 Where does he recommend tourists eat in England? Why?
6 How many women work in his kitchen? Why does he think there are so few women in restaurant kitchens?
7 What English food does he miss most?

d Do you think an English restaurant would be a success if it opened in your town? Why (not)? What food from your country would you miss most if you went to live abroad?

6 SPEAKING

a Work in groups of three A, B, and C. First read sentences 1-6 and decide (individually) whether you agree or disagree. Think about examples you can use to support your point of view.

1 Women worry more about their diet than men.
2 Young people today eat less healthily than ten years ago.
3 Men cook as a hobby, women cook because they have to.
4 Vegetarians are healthier than people who eat a lot of meat.
5 You can often eat better in cheap restaurants than in expensive ones.
6 Every country thinks that their cooking is the best.

b Now A say what you think about sentence 1. B and C listen and then agree or disagree with A. Then B say what you think about sentence 2, etc. Try to use the expressions in Useful language.

Useful language

For example... I agree. I don't agree. I think it's true. I don't think it's true. (I think) it depends.
1 If you really want to win, cheat

1 GRAMMAR past tenses: simple, continuous, perfect a In which sports are there most cases of cheating? How do people cheat in these sports?

b Read the article and find out how the people cheated.

c Look at the highlighted verbs in text 1. What three tenses are they? Underline an example of each tense in the other two texts.
d Which of the three tenses in c do we use for...

1 completed actions in the past
2 an action in progress at a particular moment in the past
3 an action that happened before the past time we are talking about e p.130 Grammar Bank 1B. Read the rules and do the exercises.

Cover the texts. In pairs, retell the three stories using the correct tenses.

Text 1
England (play) Argentina.
Maradona (score) a goal.
The English players (protest) but the referee (give) the goal.
The TV cameras (show) that Maradona (score) the goal with his hand.

Text 2
Fred Lorz (win) the marathon in 1904.
He (wait) to get his medal.
The spectators (cheer).
Everybody (start) shouting 'cheat'.
Fred (travel) 18 km by car.

Text 3
Boris Onischenko (compete) against Jim Fox.
Boris (win) but Jim Fox (protest).
The Olympic officials (examine) Boris's sword.
They (discover) that he (change) the electronic part of his sword.

2 SPEAKING
a You are going to tell an anecdote. Choose one of the topics below and plan what you are going to say. Ask your teacher for any words you need.
Tell your partner about...

a time you cheated (in an exam or in a sports game)
What were you doing?
Where? When?
Why did you cheat?
What happened?

a really exciting sports event you saw
Where and when was it?
Who was playing?
What happened?
Why was it so exciting?

a time you had an accident or got a sports injury
What were you doing? How did the accident happen?
What part of your body did you hurt? What happened next? How long did it take you to recover?

a time you saw or met a celebrity
Where were you? What was the celebrity doing? What was he/she wearing? Did you speak to him/her?
What happened in the end?

b In pairs, tell each other your stories. Ask for more details.

3 LISTENING
a Can you think of two disadvantages of being a professional football referee?

b 1.6 You're going to hear an interview with an ex-Champions League referee from Spain. Listen and choose a, b, or c.

1 What was the most exciting match he ever refereed?
   a His first professional match.
   b He can't choose just one.
   c Real Madrid against Barcelona.

2 Why does he mention Mauro Silva?
   a Because he was the best player he ever saw.
   b Because he was a great person.
   c Because he was a very good footballer and a good person.

3 The worst experience he ever had as a referee was...
   a when a player hit him during a match.
   b when a woman with a child tried to attack him.
   c when a 16-year-old boy attacked him.

4 Why does he think there is more cheating in football today?
   a Because football is big business.
   b Because the referees are worse.
   c Because footballers are better at cheating.

5 How does he say footballers cheat?
   a They fall over when nobody has touched them.
   b They accept money to lose matches.
   c They touch the ball with their hands.

6 What's the most difficult thing for him about being a referee?
   a Players who cheat.
   b Making decisions.
   c The rules are too complicated.

7 Does he think fair play still exists?
   a Yes.
   b No.
   c He doesn't say.

c Listen again for more information. Do you agree with him that there is more cheating in football than before?
4 VOCABULARY  sport

a In pairs, do the quiz.

Sports Quiz
1 How long does a football match last?
2 How many referees are there in a basketball match?
3 How many players are there in a volleyball team?
4 How often are the World Athletics Championships held?
5 How long is a marathon?
6 How many holes are there on a golf course?
7 How long is one lap of an athletics track?

c In pairs, think of a sports team in your town / country and answer the questions.

What’s the name of the team?
What sport do they play?
Where do they play? (in a stadium, sports hall, etc.)
Who is…? a the coach
b the captain
c the best player in the team
How many spectators watch their matches?
What happened in their last match?

5 PRONUNCIATION  /ɔː/ and /əː/

a Write the words in the correct column. Be careful with or (there are two possible pronunciations).

ball serve caught world draw fought hurt score sport shirt warm up worse court

b 3.7 Listen and check.

c p.157 Sound Bank. Look at the typical spellings for these sounds.

d 4.8 Practise saying these sentences. Listen and check.
1 I got hurt when I caught the ball.
2 Her serve’s worse than the other girl’s.
3 It was a draw – the score was four all.
4 It’s the worst sport in the world.
5 We warmed up on the court.
6 They wore red shirts and white shorts.

6 SPEAKING

In pairs, interview your partner about sport using the questionnaire. Ask for more information.

YES

What sport(s) do you play?
Have you ever won a cup or a trophy?
Have you ever been injured doing sport?
Do you prefer doing sport or being a spectator?
Do you prefer watching individual or team sports?
Do you go to watch a local sports team?
Are there good sports facilities in your town?
Is there any sport you’d like to learn to play well?
How many hours do you spend a week watching sport on TV?

NO

What sports do / did you have to do at school?
Do / did you enjoy it?
Do you do any sport in your free time?
Do you think you’re fit? Would you like to get fitter?
Do your family and friends like sport?
Is there any sport you don’t mind watching on TV?
What sport do you hate watching most on TV?
Have you ever been to a big sporting occasion?
Do you think physical education should be optional at school?
When you hear the final whistle

1F One of the hardest things for any sportsperson to do is to know when to retire. Do you retire when you are at your physical 'peak' or do you wait until your body (or your coach) tells you that it's time to go? But even harder is finding the answer to the question 'What am I going to do with the rest of my life?'

2 'There's a high risk of depression and people often find adjusting to a new way of life difficult', says Ian Cockerill, a sports psychologist. 'For sportspersons, there's an extra trauma - the loss of status, the loss of recognition, and the loss of the glamour. That's the hardest part.' As Eddie A Marto, the US jockey says, 'When a jockey retires, he becomes just another little man.'

3 Perhaps they just can't stand life without the 'high' of playing professional sport. Michael Jordan, the greatest basketball player of all time, retired three times. He retired once from the Chicago Bulls, made a successful comeback with the Bulls, then retired again. His second comeback with an inferior team ended in failure and he retired for ever at the age of 38. Jordan said, 'There will never be anything I do that will fulfil me as much as competing did.'

4 Muhammad Ali needed the money, but his comeback fight, at the age of 39, against Trevor Berbick, was one of the saddest spectacles in modern sport. After losing to Berbick, Ali retired permanently. Three years later he developed Parkinson's disease.

5 As Jimmy Greaves, an ex-England international footballer said, 'I think that a lot of players would prefer to be shot once their career is over.' Many of them spend their retirement in a continual battle against depression, alcohol, or drugs.

6 Franz Beckenbauer is a classic example of a footballer who won everything with his club, Bayern Munich. After retiring he became a successful coach with Bayern and finally president of the club. John McEnroe, the infamous 'bad boy' of tennis, is now a highly respected and highly paid TV commentator. But sadly, for most sportspersons these cases are the exceptions.

da Look at the photos. In pairs, answer the questions.

Have you ever seen any of these people playing sport?
At what age do you think people reach their 'peak' in these sports?
Do you know what these people do now?

b Read the article once. Do most sportspersons find it easy or difficult to retire?

c Complete the article with sentences A–F below.

A For some people the pain of saying goodbye never leaves them.
B Others can't resist the chance of one last 'pay day'.
C Some sportspersons go on playing too long.
D But for the lucky few, retirement can mean a successful new career.
E Retirement for people in general is traumatic.
F One of the hardest things for any sportsperson to do is to know when to retire.

d Can you remember these words? If not, check with the text. Underline the stressed syllable.

1 adjective: depressed noun: depression
2 adjective: glamorous noun: __________
3 verb: lose noun: __________
4 verb: recognize noun: __________
5 verb: fail noun: __________
6 verb: retire noun: __________

e Think of a sportsperson from your country who has retired. What is he / she doing now? Do you think he / she retired at the right time?
1 VOCABULARY & SPEAKING family

a Look at the two pictures. Which one do you think shows the typical family of the future? Read the first paragraph of the article and find out.

---

Families have a great-great future

Twenty years ago, the typical extended family was 'wide'. It usually consisted of two or three generations, with many children in each 'nuclear family'. People had lots of aunts and uncles but often didn't know their grandparents. However, according to a new study by the British research group Mintel, the family is changing shape. The family groups of the future will be 'long and thin', with three or four small generations.

Here are some of their predictions:

1. Most children will know their great-grandparents (and even great-great-grandparents) because people are living longer.

2. Very few children will have brothers or sisters, and it will be common to be an only child. As a result, future generations will not have many cousins either.

3. Many children will grow up isolated from other children and young adults. This will make them more selfish and introverted.

4. More couples will divorce and re-marry, some more than once. They may have children with their new partners, so many children will have a stepmother or stepfather and half-brothers or sisters.

5. There will be many 'boomerang children'. These are children who leave home to get married, but then divorce and return to live with their parents.

6. There will be more single-parent families.

7. Because houses are now so expensive, different generations may decide to live together, so parents, grandparents, and adult children may co-own their houses, and many couples will have to live with their in-laws.
b Now read the whole article. Match the highlighted words with the definitions.

1. your grandparents' parents
2. a child who doesn't have any brothers or sisters
3. families where the mother or father is bringing up the children on his/her own
4. your uncle's or aunt's children
5. the family of your husband/wife
6. all your relatives including aunts, grandparents, etc.
7. your grandparents' grandparents
8. boys who have (for example) the same father as you but a different mother
9. the new wife of your father
10. people who are having a relationship

Read the seven predictions again. In pairs or small groups, answer the questions for each prediction.

1. Is this already happening in your country?
2. Do you think it will happen in the future?
3. Do you think it will be a good thing or a bad thing?

3 READING

a In a family with two children, do you think it's better to be the older or the younger brother or sister? Why?

b You're going to read an article about two sisters, Wendy (the younger sister) and Carnie (the older sister). Before you read, predict the answers to the questions below. Write W (Wendy) or C (Carnie).

Who do you think...?
1 had a more eccentric hairstyle
2 admired her sister
3 didn't want to be with her sister
4 followed her sister everywhere
5 tried to compete with her sister
6 wasn't a good student
7 told her parents when her sister did something wrong
8 used to hurt her sister physically
9 was jealous of her sister
10 always defended the other sister

c Now read the article and check your answers.

d Look at the highlighted words and phrases. In pairs, choose the right meaning, a or b.

1 a boring b fashionable
2 a children b adults
3 a age difference b the time they weren't together
4 a become friends again b stop speaking
5 a kiss b hurt with your fingers
6 a say bad things about b say good things about 7 a we got on very well b we got on very badly
8 a ask for help b say that somebody is responsible for something bad e Do you think their relationship is typical of brothers and sisters?

We are family...

Two sisters tell the truth about themselves – and each other...

Wendy Wilson and her older sister Carnie are the daughters of the Beach Boys founder, Brian Wilson. They formed the band Wilson Philips (with the daughter of Michelle Philips of The Mamas and Papas) and their first album was a worldwide hit. Today they are both married and live in Los Angeles. Here they talk about their relationship.

Wendy, the younger sister says:

I always thought Carnie was really cool. Especially when she was a teenager and had bright red spiky hair. But, like most older sisters, she wasn't at all interested in her younger sister. I desperately wanted to be with her and her friends, and sometimes I used to follow them, but she hated that.

When we were kids we both had a lot of material things like toys and clothes, but even then we knew that Mom and Dad weren't happy. We used to talk about it all the time, and after a while they separated and we stayed with my Mom. We didn't see Dad for quite a few years, which really hurt us. But it's also the thing that brought me and Carnie closer together.
When I was 16 or 17 the one and a half year age gap between us didn't matter any more, and we started to get on with each other and to write songs together.

Being in a band – or working at anything – with a member of your family can be difficult, but it also has advantages. If we have a big argument about a song, after a while we remember that we are sisters and we make it up. Nothing is going to stop us from being sisters.

Carnie, the older sister says:

I sometimes think that poor Wendy has spent all her life competing with me. She was a very quiet, shy child, while I was incredibly talkative and demanding – I was awful! I wasn't interested in studying, all I wanted to do was go to parties, and Wendy used to tell my parents. So I was horrible to her – I used to pinch her and bite her.

I was very jealous of Wendy also because she was more attractive than me. But she always defended me when other people criticized me, and sometimes it seemed as if she was the older sister and I was the younger one. Although we were complete opposites, we were also very close and had a lot of fun together. We still do.

I think I suffered a lot because of my father leaving us when we were small, but Wendy helped me to understand that Dad loved us too, but in a different way. She also taught me that you can't blame other people for your problems, you have to look at yourself.
HOW WORDS WORK...

Look at two sentences from the We are family text.

1. We started to get on with each other.
2. You have to look at yourself.

- Use each other when A does an action to B and B does the same action to A

We love each other = I love you and you love me.

- Use a reflexive pronoun (myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself, ourselves, yourselves, themselves) when the subject of the verb is the same as the object.

I cut myself. She looked at herself in the mirror.

- You can also use a reflexive pronoun for emphasis.

Nobody helped me. I did it all myself.

Complete the sentences with each other or a reflexive pronoun.

1. After the argument they didn’t speak to ______ for a week.
2. This light is automatic. It turns ______ on and off.
3. We built the house ______. It took three years.
4. We only see ______ once a month.
5. They argue a lot. They don’t understand ______.
6. I blame ______ for the accident. It was my fault.

4 VOCABULARY personality

Subject: Hi from Scotland

Dear Claudia,
I hope you’re well.

I’ve just had an email from your friend Christelle. She wants to rent a room in my house this summer. Could you tell me a bit about her (age, personality, etc. and what she likes doing) so that I can see if she would fit in with the family? Please be honest!

Send my regards to your family and I hope to hear from you soon.
Best wishes
Stephanie

From: Claudia
To: Stephanie Subject: Hi from Switzerland

Hi Stephanie,

Thanks for your email.

Of course I can tell you about Christelle. She’s 21, and she’s studying law with me.

I think she's quite extrovert and very sociable - she has lots of friends. She’s also very good with children. She has a young step-brother and several young cousins, and I know she likes playing with them. She’s incredibly hard-working and responsible - she passed all her exams last year, which is more than I did!

She likes going out, seeing films, and listening to music, but not rock or heavy metal - so don’t worry about noise! And she’s happy to do things on her own - she’s very independent, so you won’t really have to look after her. Her parents are divorced and she lives with her mother and stepfather, but she also sees her father regularly.

The only negative things I can think of are that she’s a bit untidy - her room is usually in a mess - and that her English is, well, not brilliant. But I’m sure she’ll learn fast! I think she’s really nice and that you and the family will get on well with her.

I hope that’s useful. Let me know if you need any more information about her.

Love
Claudia

Jam today, tomorrow, yesterday...

Craig Flatman is every nutritionist’s nightmare – a fifteen-year-old who never eats anything except bread and jam but, unbelievably, is perfectly healthy! Although his diet contains hardly any protein and is 60% sugar, he is 1.84m tall, weighs 63kg, and his parents say he has never been seriously ill apart from typical childhood illnesses.

Craig, or ‘Jam boy’, as his friends have nicknamed him, rejects any form of meat, fish, fresh fruit, or vegetables. The only time he doesn’t eat bread and jam is for breakfast, when he has chocolate cereal, and for tea, when he occasionally has a slice of chocolate cake. He also drinks two pints of semi-skimmed milk a day.

Craig’s strange diet started when he was four years old. As a baby he had refused to eat solid food, and rejected everything until his father gave him a sugar sandwich when he was nine months old. He also ate chocolate spread sandwiches, and this, with milk, was his diet until he was four when he asked to try jam, and started an eleven-year obsession.

Craig sometimes craves some variety, but every time he tries something else he feels ill. Doctors believe that his condition may have been caused by choking on solid food when he was a baby. ‘They tell me I’ll grow out of it,’ says Craig, ‘but I don’t know if I’ll ever change.’ Although Craig’s parents eat a normal diet, their family meals are made more difficult by the fact that Craig’s sister Amy, 13, is a vegetarian. And every time they go out for a meal together, they have to phone in advance – to check they can bring jam sandwiches for Craig.

a Read the article and mark the sentences T (true), F (false) or DS (doesn’t say).
1. Craig doesn’t eat any protein.
2. He eats ten jam sandwiches a day.
3. The only other things he eats are chocolate cereal and cake.
4. When he was a baby he didn’t like solid food.
5. His obsession with jam sandwiches started when he was eleven.
6. Craig doesn’t want to try any other kinds of food.
7. Doctors have done a lot of tests on Craig.
8. They think Craig’s diet will change when he gets older.
9. Craig’s family eat out about once a month.
10. Craig also has jam sandwiches when his family eat out.

   • all jobs are equally important
   • most people don’t like their jobs
   • people judge you according to how much you earn
2 What do you think of Heidemarie?
   Would you like to have her as a friend?

My life without money
Heidemarie Schwermer, a 63-year-old German woman, has lived without money for the last ten years, and has written a book about her experiences called My life without money.

At the age of 54 Heidemarie gave up her job as a psychotherapist, gave away all her money and her flat and threw away her credit cards. Today, apart from a few clothes (three sweaters, two skirts, two pairs of shoes, and a coat) and a few personal belongings, she doesn’t own anything.

It all began as a one-year experiment. In her home city of Dortmund she set up a ‘swapping circle’ where people swap services without using money, for example, a haircut for a mathematics class. To prove that this could work she decided to give up using money for a year. But when the year ended she continued and has not used money since then.

At first she house-sat for friends who were on holiday. She stayed in their house in return for watering the plants and looking after their animals. At the moment she is staying in a student residence where she can sleep, have a shower, or use a computer in return for cooking for the young people who live there. She also ‘works’ as a psychotherapist. ‘Before I treated very wealthy people but now I help anyone who turns up. Sometimes they give me something in return, but not always.’

Heidemarie says, ‘I can live thanks to my contacts. A lot of people who know me understand what I’m doing and want to help me. When I need a bus ticket, for example, or a new tube of toothpaste I think, “Who can I ask? What can I give them in return?”’ If I want to go to the cinema, I might offer to look after somebody’s children for the afternoon.

It is one of the mistakes of our society that most people do something they don’t like just to earn money and spend it on things they don’t need. Many people judge you according to how much you earn. In my opinion, all jobs are equally important. You may not earn a lot of money but you may be worth a lot as a person. That’s my message.’

So what did she do with all the money she earned from the sales of My life without money?
‘I gave it all away…’

‘My name’s Karen and I’m a primary school teacher. A few months ago, I decided to change my life. I took a year off and went to live in Beirut with my husband, Mike, who’s an English teacher.’
3 PRONUNCIATION  sentence stress

A important part of clear communication in English is stressing the words in a sentence which carry the information, and not stressing the other ones.

a 28 Dictation. Listen to five sentences. Try to write down the stressed words. Look at the words and try to remember the whole sentence. Then listen again and write the complete sentences.

b 29 Listen and copy the rhythm.

1 I’ve been living here for two years.
2 How long have you been learning English?
3 She’s been working in Italy since October.
4 How long have you been waiting?
5 It’s been raining all night.
6 We’ve been looking for a flat for ages.

4 SPEAKING

a Look at the circles, and write something in as many as you can.

A sport you play regularly (or a kind of exercise you do regularly)
Something you are learning (to do)
A friend you know very well
A magazine / newspaper you read regularly
A bar or restaurant you often go to

A thing you have which is very important for you
A club, organization, gym, etc. you are a member of
The make of car you drive
The place where you live

b Compare circles with a partner. Ask your partner at least three questions about the things they’ve written. One question must be How long have you…?

⚠️ Remember after How long…? with action verbs, e.g. play, use present perfect continuous, with non-action verbs, e.g. know, use present perfect simple.

How long have you been playing volleyball?

Since I was about 15.

How often do you play?
5 READING
a Can you think of one way that a holiday could change your life for the better?

b You're going to read an article about two people whose lives were changed by a holiday. Work in pairs. Read about Victoria, B about Sally.

c In pairs, take turns to tell each other about the two women. Answer these questions.
What is she doing now?
What was she doing before?
What made her change her life?
How does she feel now?

d Read the text that you didn't read before. Did your partner leave out any important information?

e In pairs, try to guess the meaning of the highlighted words. Then match them with their definitions below.

First text
1 of little importance
2 crazy
3 a person who looks after animals (e.g. in a zoo)
4 animals like large monkeys
5 not looked after well

Second text
6 the London underground
7 very tasty
8 asked for (in writing)
9 burning brightly
10 very small

f Whose life do you think has changed the most? Which of the two holidays would you choose?

It was just a holiday, but it changed my life

Holidays can be good for your health. You lie on a beach and relax, and tensions disappear. But sometimes a holiday can change your life completely, which is what happened two years ago to Victoria Smith and Sally Gook.

Victoria Smith, six years ago, was working as a manager at Next, a British chain store. Then she went on holiday to Borneo...

'It was a working holiday,' said Victoria, 'where you could study orang-utans in the wild – I have always been interested in apes, so I thought it would be fun.' The holiday was wonderful, and when Victoria came home she found it very difficult to return to her old life. 'Suddenly the problems in the store just seemed so trivial.' Although everybody told her she was mad, she decided to go back to university and study biology. Four years later she became a chimpanzee keeper.

For the last two years Victoria has been working at Monkey World, a centre in south-west England which looks after apes which have been ill-treated. Many have been rescued from laboratories and circuses all over the world. She works long hours, and the pay isn't very good, but she loves it. 'Apes are like a big family, each with their own personality.'

'I'm really happy now. Since I started working here I feel that I've been doing something important, not just wasting my life.'

Sally Gook wakes up every morning to a deep blue sky and blazing sun. For the last two years she has been living on the tiny Greek island of Lipsi, which is only 16 square kilometres in size and has a population of just 650.

But until a few years ago she lived in London. 'I was working for American Express and I had a good social life and earned a lot of money. But I had to get up very early every morning, often in horrible weather, and get a train and the tube to work.'

Then one day she and a friend decided they needed a relaxing holiday, and they came to Lipsi. 'I loved it – the people, the mountains, the sun, and the delicious food. Suddenly I knew there was a different life waiting for me here.' A few months later she applied for a job at the travel company which had organized her holiday.

Since then she has been living on Lipsi and working as a tourist guide. Her boyfriend, who is Greek, is a farmer. Sally said, 'I've only been back to London once, and I can't imagine ever living there again.'

HOW WORDS WORK...
The bus took 45 minutes.
It took me just 30 minutes from home.
How long does it take you to get to school?
Use take (+ person) + time (+ to get to)... to talk about the duration of a journey.

Ask and answer the questions in pairs.
How long does it take you to get to work / school?
How long does it take to get from your house to the centre?
   a by car  b by bus / underground  c on foot
When I got to security I saw that there was an enormous queue. I began to worry that I might miss my flight, because the boarding limit is 40 minutes before take-off. I had to run to gate 48 and I arrived completely out of breath.

I arrived on time! I picked up my suitcase and followed the Exit signs. It was great not to have to wait ages for my luggage or to worry about getting a bus or taxi to the city centre.

We boarded. Because there are no seat numbers on these flights, everybody tries to get on as quickly as they can. I sat next to a friendly Frenchman. We took off and soon I was looking down on London. There was no meal, not even coffee, but we landed 10 minutes ahead of schedule.

At 4.15 a.m. a taxi picked me up and took me 32 miles to Stansted airport. Although it was early morning, there was a lot of traffic and I arrived later than I had planned. I took my luggage to check in and asked for a window seat but the woman said there were no seat numbers.

At 7.10 a.m. I arrived at Waterloo station by taxi. It took me just 30 minutes from home. I bought the papers and walked to the platform. I got on and found my seat. As soon as we started moving, I went to find the buffet car and had a cup of coffee.

Just outside the station I looked up and saw the medieval walls of Avignon’s historic city centre. It was 2.20 a.m. in the afternoon and I was just in time for a late lunch! My ticket cost £65.80, and I gave the journey 8/10 for comfort and 9/10 for convenience.

I only had to wait twenty minutes for my luggage. Then I walked outside into bright sunshine and waited for the bus to Avignon, about 40 kilometres away. I didn’t have to wait long and the bus took 45 minutes. It was only 11.00 a.m. and I had the whole day in front of me. My ticket cost £63, and I gave the journey 5/10 for comfort and 5/10 for convenience.

I looked out of the window. Although we were moving at 340 kilometres an hour, the journey was smooth and relatively quiet. The part where we travelled under the English Channel took just 22 minutes. Soon I was looking at the fields and farmhouses of France. The sun was shining. I closed my eyes and went to sleep.

* France is one hour ahead of the UK.

5 PRONUNCIATION & SPEAKING stress in compound nouns

a Listen and repeat the compound nouns.
Which word is usually stressed more?

traffic lights  pedestrian area boarding pass   road works car park        rush hour car crash       seat belt cycle lane      speed camera parking fine    speed limit traffic jam     ticket office

b Ask and answer the questions in pairs.

In your town / city...

- What kind of public transport is there?
- What time is the rush hour?
- Are there often traffic jams?
- What's the speed limit?
- Are there speed cameras anywhere?
- Are there any cycle lanes? Do many people use them?
- Are there any pedestrian areas? Where?
- Are there enough car parks? Are they expensive?
- What happens if you park somewhere illegal?
- Do people usually wear their seat belt in the back of the car?
- Do motorcyclists and cyclists wear helmets?
- Are big lorries allowed to drive through the centre?
6 LISTENING & SPEAKING

a Read the beginning of a newspaper article and then talk to a partner:
1 Do you (or your family) ever do any of these things while driving a car?
2 Which three do you think are the most dangerous? Number them 1–3 (1 = the most dangerous).

Which of these things is the most dangerous when you’re driving a car?
• making a call on your mobile
• listening to your favourite music
• listening to music you don’t know
• opening a packet of crisps or a can of drink
• picking up a specific CD from the passenger seat
• talking to other passengers

A car magazine tested car drivers in a driving simulator. The drivers had to ‘drive’ in the simulator and at the same time do the things in the list above. The results of the tests were surprising (and worrying).

b Now listen to a road safety expert talking about the tests. Number the activities 1–6. Were your top three right?

c Listen again and answer the questions.
1 What should you do when you are driving?
2 Why is opening a packet of crisps or a can so dangerous?
3 What do people usually do when they pick up a CD?
4 What gets worse when drivers are talking on the phone?
5 How do people drive when they are listening to their favourite music?
6 What happens if the music is fast and heavy?
7 What’s the main problem when drivers talk to other passengers?
8 Why is listening to music you don’t know the least dangerous?

d Look at the statements below and decide whether you agree or disagree. Tick (✓) the ones you agree with and put a cross (✗) next to the ones you disagree with. Think about your reasons.

Drivers should not use any kind of phone when they are driving.
The minimum age for riding a motorbike should be 25.
People who drink and drive should lose their licence for life.
The speed limit on motorways should be 100 kilometres an hour.
Cyclists are just as dangerous as car drivers.
Speed cameras do not stop accidents.
People over 70 are more dangerous drivers than young people.

e In groups, give your opinions on each sentence. Do you agree?

Nightmare journeys
We asked you to tell us about your nightmare journeys. Jutta from Germany wrote to us about hers...

A nightmare journey I remember was three years ago. I was going to the airport with my friend. We were going to Mallorca on holiday and we had to be at Dresden airport two hours before the flight.

We left home with plenty of time, when we got to the motorway there was a huge traffic jam! The traffic wasn’t moving at all. We didn’t know what to do. It was too late to go another way, so we just sat in the car getting more and more stressed. Ten minutes the traffic started moving slowly. We decided to leave the motorway and try to find another way to the airport, but I wasn’t sure of the way and we got completely lost. We were sure we were going to miss the flight. We finally arrived at the airport just thirty minutes before the plane was going to leave. The woman at the check-in desk said we couldn’t check in our luggage, it was too late we had to run with all our cases to the departure gate.

My friend felt over and hurt her leg, we managed to get to the gate in time and we caught our flight.

Why I didn’t want to be a millionaire

When Lydia Nash appeared on the TV programme Who wants to be a millionaire? and was fortunate enough to win £16,000, she decided to give all the money away. This wouldn’t have been surprising if she had been rich or famous, but Lydia is a 19-year-old student. Lydia gave all the money to a charity which helps orphan children in Thailand and where she had also worked as a volunteer for the previous three years. ‘I first visited the orphanage when I was seventeen, and I felt very depressed by what I saw. When I got back to England I felt angry – looking around all I could see people who were obsessed with money. That convinced me to return to Thailand the following year.’ After she won the money some of her friends at university thought that maybe she had made the wrong decision. ‘Some people said I should have saved it for a deposit to buy a house or to pay back my student loan,’ Lydia said. ‘That really annoyed me. Students seem to live in an unreal world, where they constantly complain about being poor. But there’s an enormous difference between our situation and people who have absolutely no money.’

With the help of the money Lydia gave them, the charity has just finished building ‘Rainbow House’, a new facility which will house 50 young children, where they will live until they are adopted.

If Lydia had won a million pounds and not only £16,000, would she still have given away all the money? She said, ‘Before going on the show I thought a lot about what it would be like to have a lot of money and I realized that I wouldn’t like it at all. And then, of course, as I had been to the orphanage and had seen all the work that needed to be done, I knew how useful that money could be. It was far more important for the charity than it could ever be for me. I definitely think I got more enjoyment out of giving the money away than if I had kept it for myself.’

a 1 People were surprised that Lydia gave away the money she won because _______.
   a she is young and not very wealthy b she already had a lot of money of her own c she had won a lot of money

2 Before winning the money, Lydia had been to the orphanage in Thailand _______.
   a once  b twice  c several times

3 Lydia thinks that students today _______.
   a are broke all the time
   b have a lot of money
   c are not as poor as they think

4 The charity has used the money to _______.

4 READING

a. Look at the postcard. What does it say about the English?

b. Read Culture shock and tick (✔) the sentence which says what the article is about.

- The English have very good manners.
- The English and Russian idea of good manners is different.
- The English are polite but insincere.
- The Russians are very rude and unfriendly.

Culture shock

Good manners are always good manners. That’s what Miranda Ingram, who is English, thought, until she married Alexander, who is Russian.

When I first met Alexander and he said to me, in Russian, ‘Nalei mnye chai’ – pour me some tea’, I got angry and answered, ‘Pour it yourself’. Translated into English, without a ‘Could you...?’ and a ‘please’, it sounded really rude to me. But in Russian it was fine – you don’t have to add any polite words.

However, when I took Alexander home to meet my parents in the UK, I had to give him an intensive course in ‘pleases’ and ‘thank yous’ (which I thought were completely unnecessary), and to teach him to say ‘sorry’ even if someone else stepped on his toe, and to smile, smile, smile.

Another thing that Alexander just couldn’t understand was why people said things like, ‘Would you mind passing me the salt, please?’ He said, ‘It’s only the salt, for goodness sake! What do you say in English if you want a real favour?’

He also watched in amazement when, at a dinner party in England, we swallowed some really disgusting food and I said, ‘Mmm... delicious’. In Russia, people are much more direct. The first time Alexander’s mother came to our house for dinner in Moscow, she told me that my soup needed more flavouring. Afterwards when we argued about it my husband said, ‘Do you prefer your dinner guests to lie?’

Alexander complained that in England he felt ‘like the village idiot’ because in Russia if you smile all the time people think that you are mad. In fact, this is exactly what my husband’s friends thought of me the first time I went to Russia because I smiled at everyone, and translated every ‘please’ and ‘thank you’ from English into Russian!

At home we now have an agreement. If we’re speaking Russian, he can say ‘Pour me some tea’, and just make a noise like a grunt when I give it to him. But when we’re speaking English, he has to add a ‘please’, a ‘thank you’, and a smile.

c. Read the article again and mark the sentences T (true) or F (false). Correct the wrong sentences.

1. Miranda got angry because her husband asked her to make the tea.
2. Miranda had to teach him to say sorry when something wasn’t his fault.
3. Her husband thinks English people are too polite.
4. Alexander wasn’t surprised when people said they liked the food at the dinner party.
5. The food was delicious.
6. Miranda didn’t mind when her mother-in-law criticized her cooking.
7. Alexander thought his mother was right.
8. In Russia it isn’t normal to smile all the time when you speak to someone.
9. His Russian friends thought Miranda was very friendly because she smiled a lot.
10. Alexander never says thank you for his tea when he and Miranda are speaking in Russian.

d. Now cover the text. Can you complete the phrases with the missing verbs?

1. ______ on someone’s foot or toe (by accident)
2. ______ some wine into a glass or tea into a cup
3. ______ a noise, like a grunt
4. ______ food (so that it goes from your mouth to your stomach)
5. ______ a word from English into Russian

e. Are people in your country more like Miranda or Alexander?
5 LISTENING

a  3.4 Listen to three people who have lived in England answering the question ‘Are English people too polite?’ Do they answer yes or no? If yes, what do they think the English should do?

1 Laszlo, an English teacher from Hungary  Yes / No ________
2 Paula, a businesswoman from Argentina  Yes / No ________
3 Melik, an economist from Turkey  Yes / No ________
4 Renata, a student from Germany  Yes / No ________

b Listen again and answer the questions.
1 Why were Laszlo and his friends in London?
2 Did he and his friends think they were going to pass or fail? Why?
3 What happened in the end?
4 What do Latin people think when English people are polite?
5 How does Paula describe Latin people?
6 What does Melik think about the English people he has met in his job?
7 What kind of English people does he say aren’t polite?
8 What happened to Renata when she was in London?
9 What did she say to the last person? Why?

6 SPEAKING

Look at the five situations. In groups, discuss…
Do people do these things in your country?
Do you think it’s good or bad manners to do these things, or doesn’t it matter?

In my country, we don’t kiss people when we meet them for the first time.

Good manners?  Bad manners?  Does it matter?

Greeting people
- kiss people on both cheeks when you meet them for the first time
- call older people by their first names
- use more formal language when speaking to an older person

In a restaurant
- let your children run around and be noisy
- be very affectionate to your partner
- talk on your mobile

Driving
- always stop at a pedestrian crossing
- hoot at someone who’s driving slowly
- drive with the window down and your music playing

Men and women – a man’s role
- pay for a woman on the first date
- wait for a woman to go through the door first
- make sure a woman gets home safely at night

Visiting people
- take a present if you’re invited to dinner at someone’s house
- arrive more than 10 minutes late for a lunch or dinner
- smoke in a house where the owners don’t smoke

   3 Do you think the photo looks like you?
   4 Do you like the photo? Why (not)?

b Look at the three people and their passport photos. Do they look like their passport photos?

c Read the first paragraph of the article and answer the questions.
   1 Why is our passport photo important?
   2 Which nationality are the least happy with their photo?
   3 Which are the happiest?
   4 Which nationality are the vainest?

d Now read the rest of the article.
   Who is happy with their photo? Who isn’t? Why?

e Look at the highlighted words in the text and choose the correct meaning.
   1 a a study
      b a book
   2 a feeling uncomfortable
      b feeling happy
   3 a journalists
      b famous people
   4 a feeling pleased with yourself
      b feeling unhappy with yourself 5 a very beautiful
      b very ugly
   6 a without hair
      b with a lot of hair
   7 a a kind of document
      b false hair

Do I really look like this?

Our passport (or identity card) photo is the photo we show to the largest number of different people during our lives. But how happy are we with our photo? Do we make an effort to get a good one? According to research done by the US printer company Lexmark, the answer varies according to nationalities. It seems that the Italians are the most embarrassed about their passport photo (21% said they didn’t like showing it to other people). On the other hand, 98% of Norwegians said they were happy with their photos. And the French spend most time trying to get the perfect photo (sometimes spending an hour in the photo booth!). We asked three British media celebrities how they felt about their passport photos…

Michael Winner film director

‘I used to be very proud of my passport photo,’ said Michael Winner. ‘For more than forty years I looked like an elegant film director.’ But recently Michael renewed his passport and took a new photo in a photo booth. ‘Now I look like a drug dealer’, he says.

Ruth England
TV holiday show presenter

Ruth England spends her life travelling and showing her passport photo to passport officials around the world. She confessed, ‘Once I had a passport photo where I looked really hideous and so I deliberately lost my passport and got a new one. For my latest passport, I took several photos and I chose the best one. I quite like it. I’ve had much worse ones.’

Toby Young author and journalist

Toby Young said, ‘I’m often stopped when I go through passport control because I don’t look like my passport photo at all. In my photo I had a lot more hair but now I’m bald. No one believes it is me. So, now I have two possibilities: take a wig with me every time I travel or get a new passport photo!’

Laura Day, policewoman, Soho, London
When people first meet me they think I might be a teacher or a hairdresser. When I'm not wearing my uniform, they never believe me that I'm a policewoman. When I tell people what I do, the typical reaction is, 'You can't be a policewoman, you're too small!' I'm only 5 feet 4 inches* tall. People always think that policewomen are big and masculine. Often people only believe me when I show them my police identity card.

Sam Roddick, daughter of Anita Roddick (the millionaire founder of Body Shop)
When I introduce myself to people and say my name they often say, 'Oh you must be the Body Shop woman's daughter.' Later they can't remember my name. I'm very proud of my mother but I would never say, 'My mum's Anita Roddick.' I don't know if I am very different from the typical 'rich kid' because I don't know any. My friends never mention my background or money and neither do I.

Thea Callan, managing director of Nails Inc. (the biggest UK chain of nail bars*)
People often ask me who my boss is. They think, 'She can't be the managing director - she's a woman.' They're expecting to see an older man in a suit. Or when people speak to me on the phone and hear that I am a woman then they think that I must be a 50-year-old woman who wears trouser suits and is very unfeminine. They're very surprised when they see me - I'm not like that at all. In the office I just wear jeans and trainers.

Never give up

Natalie, the swimmer who lost a leg

Natalie du Toit, the South African swimmer, was only seventeen when she lost her leg in a road accident. She was going to a training session at the swimming pool on her motorbike when a car hit her. Her leg had to be amputated at the knee. At the time she was one of South Africa’s most promising young swimmers. Everybody thought that she would never be able to swim competitively again.

But Natalie was determined to carry on. She went back into the pool only three months after the accident. And just one year later, at the Commonwealth Games in Manchester, she swam 800 metres in 9 minutes 11.38 seconds and qualified for the final – but not for disabled swimmers, for able-bodied ones! Although she didn’t win a medal, she still made history.

‘I remember how thrilled I was the first time that I swam after recovering from the operation – it felt like my leg was there. It still does,’ says Natalie. ‘The water is the gift that gives me back my leg. I’m still the same person I was before the accident. I believe everything happens in life for a reason. You can’t go back and change anything. Swimming was my life and still is. My dream is to swim faster than I did before the accident.’

Bethany, the surfer who lost an arm

Bethany Hamilton was the best girl surfer of her age when she lost an arm in a shark attack. She was only thirteen years old and was surfing in Hawaii when a tiger shark attacked her and tore off her left arm. It happened so fast she didn’t even scream.

But Bethany was determined to get back on a surf board as soon as possible. As soon as she left hospital, she began practising her surfing exercises on the beach. Everyone was amazed to see her surfing so soon after her accident. Incredibly, she finished 5th at the National Surfing Championships.

‘The first time I went back into the sea I was so happy I cried,’ she said. ‘It was easier than I thought. But obviously it’s much more difficult than with both arms, and I have to accept I’ll probably never be world champion, which used to be my dream.’

Since then Bethany has signed a contract with Rip Curl, and has written a book about her experiences which has been made into a film, ‘I always dream of the sea,’ she says. ‘When you surf a wave, it’s like walking on water, and when you’re in the air, it’s like flying.’

The best day of my life

This week’s contributor is the thriller writer Minette Walters.

One of the best days of my life was when my agent phoned to say that my first novel, The Ice House, had been accepted by a publisher. I’d finished the book 18 months earlier, and I didn’t think it was ever going to be published. It was one morning in the autumn of 1990 when the phone call came. I was 39, and a friend of mine turned up, sat down at my kitchen table and burst into tears because she was having problems with her marriage. I was doing my best to try to console her when the phone rang. So there I was, listening to the best news of my life, while my friend was crying over the worst news of her life. My agent said, ‘Aren’t you pleased? Why aren’t you more excited?’ I said, ‘I am… but I’ll tell you later’. I put the phone down and tried to be sympathetic to my friend. But at 11 o’clock I couldn’t stand it any longer so I said, ‘Stay there. I have to go out for ten minutes’. I came back with a bottle of champagne. ‘You and I are going to drink some champagne,’ I said, and told her my good news. She was a much happier lady when she left! I can’t remember how many publishers had turned down my book, because my agent didn’t tell me. I don’t know how many copies it’s sold now – a couple of million I should think, because it’s published in 36 countries. But I have absolutely no sympathy for those publishers who rejected my book. I was deeply hurt at the time, but now I’m laughing!

Your education

What kind of secondary school / you go to?
/ you like it?
How many pupils / there in each class?
How much homework / you have?
/ you have to wear a uniform?
/ discipline very strict?
/ pupils behave well?
Which subjects / you good and bad at?
Which / your best and worst subject?
So school these days is easy?
Think again.

People and politicians complain that school is getting easier. Damian Whitworth, a 35-year-old journalist, decided to see for himself. He spent a week as a pupil at a British secondary school, Brentwood County High School. It's a large state school and has about 1,800 pupils, girls and boys, aged between 11 and 18.

French
My first lesson is French. I am in a class of thirteen year olds. Outside the classroom some girls start interrogating me. How old are you? How old do you think I am? I reply: 'Well... you're not 13!'

First we have a listening test which I find difficult. I get 14 out of 20. Not bad. Then we make revision lists on the computer. Now every pupil has one.

Maths
As we wait outside the maths classroom a teacher tells me to do up the top button of my shirt. The maths teacher uses an interactive whiteboard which has graphics and video, but the pupils don't look very interested in the lesson. A mobile rings and the owner hurries to switch it off.

History
Mr Fishleigh is the history teacher. He doesn't have any problems controlling the noise level (other teachers do). He talks to them as if they were adults and gets their attention in return.

Lunch
In the canteen we can choose between traditional and fast food. Burger and chips is the most popular meal.

Information and communication technology
We are designing spreadsheets for mobile phone sales and I cannot imagine a more boring lesson.

Most children have Internet access at home and the school has a website where parents can see what homework their children have and when they have to give it in.

Religious education
The teacher introduces us to meditation. We sit cross-legged on our desks and try to fill our minds with blackness and think positively about people who we have been thinking negatively about. For 15 minutes the children sit, eyes closed, in total silence. When they leave the class they are _slightly dazed_.

'Icredible!'
'Amazing!' 'We should do this in maths!'

The bell goes. End of school for the day.

As we leave there is a fight at the school gates. 'If anyone hits anyone, I'll call the police,' says a teacher.

So has school got easier?

It's difficult to say if lessons are harder or easier since I was a child because teaching methods have changed so much. All I can say is that during my working life I have had many tiring experiences. Being back at school for a week was as tiring as any of them. Being a pupil today is very, very hard work.
4 GRAMMAR  first conditional and future time clauses a In pairs, answer the questions.
1 When was the last time you did an exam? Did you pass or fail?
2 What’s the next exam you are going to do? How do you feel about it?

5. the floor above where you are with a lot of fresh air inside
6. wooden or metal covers which are fixed outside windows
7. an area, usually behind a house, where people can sit and eat outside d What did you find out about Frida Kahlo and her life? Would you like to visit her house?

6 SONG Our house
On the corner of Londres and Allende Street in Coyoacán, an old residential area of Mexico City, there is a house with bright blue walls, tall windows and green shutters, surrounded by trees. It is one of the most extraordinary places in Mexico, the home of the surrealist painter Frida Kahlo, who died in 1954, aged only 47.

The entrance is guarded by two giant statues nearly seven metres tall. As you walk past them, you enter a garden with tropical plants and fountains. When you go inside the house the first room is the spacious and airy living room. Here Frida and her husband, the painter Diego Rivera, entertained their famous friends, including the millionaire Nelson Rockefeller, the composer George Gershwin, and the political leader Leon Trotsky. Now the room is a gallery where some of Frida’s paintings can be seen.

The first thing you notice when you go into the kitchen is the floor – painted bright yellow to stop insects from coming in. There is a long yellow table where Frida and Diego often had lunch parties, and a yellow dresser holding traditional green and brown Mexican dishes. Here, their guests often found themselves in the company of Frida’s pets, Fulang Chang, a beloved monkey, or Bonito the parrot, who used to perform tricks at the table in return for butter!

Everywhere in the house you can feel the spirit of Frida and Diego. Upstairs, Frida’s palette and brushes are still on the worktable in her studio, as if she had just put them down. In Diego’s bedroom you can see his stetson hat and a huge pair of shoes – he had enormous feet. In another bedroom there is a cupboard with a glass door, which contains one of the colourful Mexican dresses which Frida loved wearing.

Above the cupboard, in Spanish, are painted these words: ‘Frida Kahlo was born here on July 7 1910’. In fact, she was born three years earlier (July 6th 1907) but she changed her birth date to the year of the Mexican Revolution. On the walls of the patio is another inscription ‘Frida and Diego lived in this house from 1929–1954’. Again, this is not entirely true. She and her husband lived in separate houses for five years during that period, and they divorced in 1939, though they remarried a year later. The house, like Frida’s life, is full of contradictions.

a Have you ever tried to get in touch with an old friend? Why? Did you succeed?

b Read about the Friends Reunited website and answer the questions.

1 What's it for?
2 How do you use it?

Friends Reunited is a website which helps you to find old friends and let's you read what people you've lost touch with are doing now.

How does it work?
New visitors find their old schools or workplaces, which are usually listed on the web page, and then add their names to the list of people already registered. They can also post photos and information about what they are doing now. When they want to contact another member, Friends Reunited forwards the message. Communication takes place without revealing personal email addresses or contact details until members decide they want to do so.

c Now read about two people who registered on the website. Who did they want to meet? Why?

d Complete the texts with the sentences below.

he used to go to I used to know I used to live used to come we used to go out

An actor you used to like a lot but don’t any more a How often do you see your really good friends? Would you like to see them more often? Do you spend much time with people you don’t really like?
5 READING

b Now read the magazine article. What does ‘edit your friends’ mean?

Do you need to ‘edit your friends’?

Is your mobile phone directory full of phone numbers of people you don’t really want to talk to? Do you go out with people from work or university more often than with your real friends? Do you say yes to invitations because you think you should, not because you want to? If you answered yes to at least two of these questions, then perhaps it’s time to ‘edit your friends’?

Nowadays people tend to spend a lot of time socializing with colleagues at work or classmates at university. The result is that we don’t have enough time to see our real, close friends. As our lives get busier it becomes more important to spend the little free time we have with people we really want to see, people we love and who really love us.

Who are the friends you need to edit?
A few years ago I read a book about how to get rid of unnecessary possessions.

It said you should ask yourself about each thing you have: Is it useful? Do I really like it? Do I feel better every time I look at it? If the answer is no to any one of those questions, you should throw it away. Maybe we should ask similar questions about our friends.

What kind of friends will you probably need to edit? Sometimes it’s an old friend. Somebody who you used to have a lot in common with, but who, when you meet now, you have very little or nothing to say to. Or it might be a new friend who you get on quite well with, but who is taking up too much of your time. Next time one of these people calls you and suggests a meeting, think, ‘Do I really want to see this person?’ and if the answer is no, say no, and make an excuse. That way you’ll have more time to spend with your real friends.

c Now read the article again. Choose the best summary of each paragraph, a, b, or c.

1 People need to ‘edit’ their friends if...
   a they have moved to a different area.
   b all their friends are people from work or school.
   c they are spending a lot of time with people who are not real friends.

2 People today are often very busy, so...
   a they should see their friends less.
   b they should think carefully about how they spend their free time.
   c they should try to make friends with people from work/school.

3 The writer says that...
   a we should ask ourselves who our real friends are.
   b most of our friends are unnecessary.
   c we shouldn’t treat friends as possessions.

4 The kind of friends we probably need to ‘edit’ are... a old friends who don’t talk very much.
   b new friends who talk too much.
   c friends that you don’t really want to see any more.

d Read the article again. Underline five new words or phrases you want to learn.

e Do you agree with the article? Do you need to ‘edit your friends’?
HOW WORDS WORK...
1 Look at these expressions with get which have appeared in this lesson.
   Match them with their meanings A–G.
   1 ...a book about how to get rid of unnecessary objects □ A make contact with somebody
   2 ...a new friend who you get on with quite well □ B be friendly with 3 ...I sort of relaxed and felt I was getting to know them again □ C become 4 ...I got to the pub late □ D know somebody (or something) little by little 5 ...I decided to try to get in touch □ E receive
   6 ...and two days later I got a reply □ F throw away
   7 ...I got really excited □ G arrive at / in

2 Complete the questions with get or an expression with get.
   Ask and answer the questions in pairs.
   1 Who do you get on with best in your family?
   2 Does it take you long to get to know new people?
   3 Do you get more emails from friends than worked a job?
   4 How do you normally get in touch with your friends (by text, phone, etc.)?
   5 How often do you get rid of things (e.g. clothes) that you don’t use any more?

6 LISTENING & SPEAKING
a 4.14 Read sentences A–F below. Now listen to three people talking.
   Which sentences are they talking about? Write 1, 2, or 3 next to the sentence.
   A Men keep their friends longer than women.
   B It’s more difficult to keep in touch with friends than it used to be.
   C It’s impossible to stay ‘good friends’ with an ex-partner.
   D You should never criticize your friend’s partner.
   E You should never lend money to a friend.
   F You can only have two or three close friends.

b Listen again. Do they agree or disagree with the statements?
   What are their reasons? What examples do they give?

c Now look at the sentences and tick (✓) the ones you agree with and cross (✗) the ones you don’t agree with.
   Think about your reasons.

d In groups, compare opinions. Try to give real examples from your own experience or of people you know.
   Use the phrases below to help you.

Agreeing
I agree with that □ □ □ I think that’s true □ □ □

Disagreeing
I don’t agree with that (at all). □ □ □ I don’t think that’s true □ □ □

Giving examples
For example, I have a friend who ...

“Sorry, Frank, but I can no longer go on with this charade. Not only am I not your best friend, I’m not even sure I like you at all.”
A visit from a pop star

MAKING SUGGESTIONS
a 4.15 Cover the dialogue and listen. What's the problem? Where do Mark and Allie decide to take Scarlett?

b Read the dialogue. In pairs, what do you think the missing words are? Don't write them in yet.

Allie I got a message this morning. It's from Jacques.
(Allie plays the message.)
Allie You've met Scarlett Scarpino, haven't you, Ben?
Ben The punk princess? Yeah, I met her in London last year.
Allie What's she like?
Ben Let's say she's a bit ... difficult.
Allie Why are we going to _____ with her?
Mark Why _____ you show her around Paris?
Allie I have a _____ idea. Why don't you show her around Paris?
Mark What, me? I'm new here!
Allie You can't leave me to do this on my own.
Mark OK, why _____ we take her to Notre Dame? I mean, it's her first time in Paris, isn't it?
Ben I don't think churches are really her thing.
Mark How _____ taking her on a boat trip?
Allie Brilliant!
Mark And then we could go up the Eiffel Tower.
Allie _____ a good idea. I'm sure she'll love the view.
Ben And she might fall off!
Mark Thanks for your help, Ben. _____ we have lunch after that?
Allie _____ go somewhere really nice. Do you have any recommendations, Ben?
Ben _____ about La Renaissance? It's Jacques's favourite.
Allie That sounds perfect. Er, Ben, do you want to come too?
Ben Sorry, Allie. I'm really busy. But I'm sure you'll have an unforgettable meal.

c Listen again and complete the dialogue.
d 4.16 Listen and repeat the highlighted phrases.

e Look at the highlighted phrases again. Then cover the dialogue. Try to remember the missing words for making suggestions.

Making suggestions
_____ _____ take her to Notre Dame?

Describing a house or flat

Would you like to stay in this beautiful house in the heart of the Canadian Rocky Mountains?
It's a spacious house with four bedrooms, a living room, a large kitchen, two bathrooms, and a store room. There are breathtaking views of the mountains from all the windows. It has a large balcony, which is ideal for eating outside in the summer. The house has wooden floors, a jacuzzi, cable television, and Internet.
It's a quiet, safe neighbourhood and the neighbours are very warm and friendly. The house is walking distance from stores and restaurants in the local town and a short drive from areas with excellent skiing and hiking. In the area around the house you can see amazing wildlife such as bears, wolves, deer, and mountain goats.
This house is perfect for families or two couples. It's a no-smoking house and, sorry, no pets.

Rent this nice two-bedroom apartment. It's perfectly situated between 43rd Street and 8th Avenue, five minutes from Time Square and most of the theatres, and a fifteen-minute walk from Central Park.
It's a nice 150-square-metre apartment on the 19th floor of a new building. It has two bedrooms, a nice living room with a huge balcony, a kitchen/dining room and two bathrooms. The flat has very big windows, so during the day it's very light and at night you have a nice view of downtown Manhattan, especially on the 4th of July when you can see all the fireworks!
The neighbourhood is colourful, and it's nice for people who like eating out or going to the theatre and clubs. There's a subway station on the street and it's a ten-minute walk to Grand Central train station. JFK airport is less than half an hour away by taxi.
This apartment is nice for couples. Sorry, no children or pets and definitely no smoking.

a Read the two adverts from a website. Which one would you prefer to rent for a two-week holiday? Why?
b Read about the house in Canada again. Highlight any adjectives which help to 'sell' the house.
c Now read about the New York apartment again. Improve the description by replacing the word nice with one of the adjectives below. Often there is more than one possibility.

| breathtaking | ideal | magnificent | perfect | spacious | superb |

Useful language: describing location
It's perfectly situated... walking distance from... a (fifteen-minute) walk from... a short drive from...
The neighbourhood is (safe, friendly, etc.) It's a (beautiful) area...

WRITE a description of your house / flat (real or imaginary) for a website.

PLAN what you're going to write. Use the Useful language box and Vocabulary Bank Houses p.151 to help you.

Paragraph 1 A brief introduction. What kind of house / flat is it? Where is it exactly?
Paragraph 2 Describe the house / flat. What rooms does it have? Does it have any special characteristics?
Paragraph 3 Describe the neighbourhood. How far is it from places of interest, public transport, etc.?
Paragraph 4 Say who the house / flat is suitable for. Are there any restrictions?

CHECK the description for mistakes (grammar, punctuation, and spelling).
What do you remember?

What can you do?

We don't need no education... or do we?

The children who sang Another Brick in the Wall by the British group Pink Floyd have changed their tune since 1979. 25 years later, they are trying to take the group to court because of unpaid royalties.

The song, which was a number 1 in the UK and abroad, was an attack on school and education and it had the famous chorus, ‘We don’t need no education, we don’t need no thought control... teacher, leave those kids alone!’ The chorus was sung by thirteen schoolchildren from Islington Green School in London, who were taken to the Britannia Row record studios to sing on the recording by their music teacher. They never met the group and were not paid for their work. When the head of the school heard the song with its anti-school lyrics, she banned the children from appearing on any publicity or from appearing on TV.

Peter Rowan, a royalty expert from Edinburgh, has spent two years trying to find the children, now adults, and he intends to help them make a legal claim for royalties. Mr Rowan said, ‘They probably won’t get more than a few hundred pounds each, but this is about recognition. They deserve to have their work recognized even if it has taken 25 years.’

Ian Abbott, 40, was one of the children who sang on the record. He said, ‘Now I don’t agree that “We don’t need no education.” Education is so important. I really regret that I didn’t study more at school. I would like to go to university now and get a degree. But work gets in the way when you get older. Sometimes I say to my nieces, “You must study harder,” and they say, “But why? Look at what you sang on that song.”’

Mirabai Narayan, another one of the children, now works as a teacher herself. She said, ‘I sometimes wonder if the song influenced my career. My job now is to help kids with learning difficulties.’

Dan, project manager, software company, Boston, USA

I'm not happy with my work–life balance at all. I work at least 50 or 60 hours a week so I don't have any time / no time at all for myself or to see my children. I communicate with my wife by leaving messages on the fridge. We hardly ever see each other because we work different hours and I never have time to see my friends or keep fit. Also, I eat very badly because my lunch 'hour' (about 10 minutes) isn't enough long / long enough for me to have a proper meal. OK, I earn a lot of / a lot money but I don't have enough time / time enough. Is it worth it?
I didn’t use to have ‘much time / many time for anything because I was working ‘too much / too many hours – 45 or more a week. But then here in France the government decided that people should only work 35 hours a week. Nowadays I have ‘plenty of / plenty time for myself. I play tennis two evenings a week, and I finish work at lunchtime on Friday, so I can have long weekends. I am much happier. I think when you have time to enjoy your personal life, you work much better.

Amélie, Lawyer, Paris, France

Yes, I am happy with it because I’ve chosen a lifestyle that I like and that gives me ‘quite a lot / quite free time. But my father, on the other hand, works more than 70 hours a week for a car company, which I think is madness. ‘Lots of / Much Japanese people do the same. There’s an expression in Japanese, karoshi, which means ‘dying because you work ‘too hard / too much hard.’ A lot of people in Japan get ill or die because they work ‘too / too much. I think my generation is different. We don’t want our lives to be ruled by work. I work ‘a few / a little hours a day in a store – that gives me enough money to live. I spend the rest of my time seeing my friends and playing baseball.

2 What are the aims of the Slow City movement?
3 Where has it spread to?
4 What do the people of Aylsham in the UK think about living in a Slow City?

d Cover the article. A tell B about the Slow Food movement. B tell A about the Slow City movement.

e Do you think these movements are a good idea?
Would you like to live in a ‘Slow City’?

The idea of ‘Cittaslow’ or ‘Slow Cities’ was inspired by the Slow Food movement and it was started by the mayor of the small Italian town of Greve in Chianti. The aim of Slow Cities is to make our towns places where people enjoy living and working, and where they value and protect the things that make the town different. Towns which want to become a Slow City have to reduce traffic and noise, increase the number of green areas, plant trees, build pedestrian zones, and promote local businesses and traditions.

Many other small towns in Italy have joined the movement and it has spread to other countries all over the world, from the UK to Japan and Australia. Aylsham in the UK recently became a Slow City, and most people are delighted.

‘Slow Cities are about having a community life in the town, so people don’t come home from work, shut their doors and that’s it,’ said a local resident. ‘It is not “slow” as in “stupid”. It is “slow” as in the opposite of “frantic” and “stressful”. It is about quality of life.’

But not everybody in Aylsham is happy. For teenagers, who have to go 25 km to Norwich, the nearest city, to buy trainers or CDs, living in a Slow City is not very attractive. ‘It’s all right here,’ says Lewis Cook, 16. ‘But if you want excitement, you have to go to Norwich. We need more things here for young people.’

b \[\text{Listen and check. Underline the stressed syllable in each word. Which ending has a stressed syllable?}\] a Imagine that your town is thinking of becoming a ‘Slow City’ and is planning to do the following things:

6 SPEAKING

- Ban all fast food restaurants.
- Promote small family restaurants.
- Ban cars from the city centre.
- Create more pedestrian zones.
- Create more green areas and plant more trees.
- Reduce the speed limit in the town to 30 km/h.
- Use speed bumps and police cameras to control speed.
- Move all big supermarkets outside the city.
- Encourage local shops and ban multinational chain stores.
- Ban loud music in bars and clubs.

Tick (✓) the ones you agree with and cross (✗) the ones you disagree with. Think of reasons.

b Work in groups. Have a ‘meeting’ to discuss each proposal and then vote for or against it.

Useful language

I’m for / against (banning...) I think / I don’t think it would be a good idea (to create...)

The problem with (reducing...) is that... I don’t think that would work.

That would really make a difference.

c Compare with other groups. Which proposals are the most popular?

2  June is the sixth month of the year.
3  There are three things you have to remember.
4  I threw it away the other day.
5  We have maths in the third term.
6  The athletics track is through that gate.
3 READING & SPEAKING

a In pairs, look at the list of subjects below. Who do you think talks about them more, men or women? Write M or W.
- sport __ work __ clothes __ health __
- family __ films __ politics __ cars __
- their house __ the opposite sex __

b Read the first paragraph of A gossip with the girls? Does the writer agree with you? Who talks about most topics?

A gossip with the girls?

Women are experts at gossiping, and they always talk about trivial things, or at least that's what men have always thought. However, some new research suggests that when women talk to women, their conversations are far from frivolous, and cover many more topics (up to 40 subjects) than when men talk to other men. Women's conversations range from health to their houses, from politics to fashion, from films to family, from education to relationship problems. Football is notably absent. Men tend to have a more limited range of subjects, the most popular being work, sport, jokes, cars, and women.

According to Professor Petra Boynton, a psychologist at University College London, who interviewed over 1000 women, women also tend to move quickly from one subject to another in conversation, whereas men usually stick to one subject for longer periods of time.

At work, this difference can be an advantage for men, where they can put other matters aside and concentrate fully on the topic being discussed. On the other hand, it also means that they sometimes find it hard to concentrate when several things have to be discussed at the same time in a meeting.

Professor Boynton also says that men and women chat for different reasons. In social situations, women use conversation to solve problems and reduce stress while men chat with each other to have a laugh or to swap opinions.

c Now read the whole article. What does the writer say? Choose a, b, or c.

1 When women talk to each other they generally talk about ________.
   a unimportant things
   b very serious things
   c many different things

2 Men ________ as women.
   a don't talk as much b don't talk about as many things
   c don't work as much

3 In conversation women ________ than men.
   a talk more quickly
   b change the subject more often c talk more about work

4 At work, if there is a meeting which focuses on one subject, ________.
   a men will probably concentrate better than women b women will probably concentrate better than men
   c men and women will both concentrate well

5 One of the reasons why women talk to each other is ________.
   a to relax
   b to exchange ideas
   c to tell jokes

d Now prove that the article is wrong! Work in pairs or small groups.

If you're a woman, try to talk for two minutes about:
- football
- cars
- computers

If you're a man, try to talk for two minutes about:
- fashion
- shopping
- losing weight / dieting

   2 Travelling by yourself can be fun. ________, it is often more dangerous.
   3 ________ doctors, we shouldn't drink too much coffee.
   4 Dogs are very affectionate, ________ cats are more independent.
   5 New technology makes our lives easier. ________, it can be difficult to learn to use.
4 LISTENING

a Have you ever been to a spa or health farm? If yes, did you enjoy it? If no, would you like to go? Why (not)?

b Read the introduction to the article. Why did the journalists go to the spa? Which treatment do you think a) Joanna and b) Stephen will like best?

Spas – women love them. Can men enjoy them too?

The Sunday Times decided to find out. They sent two journalists, Joanna Duckworth and Stephen Bleach, to spend a day at a health spa, which offers thermal baths, saunas and steam rooms, an outdoor swimming pool, and of course a wide variety of massages and treatments.

These are some of the treatments they had:

Banana, papaya and strawberry body polish
- a treatment which will smooth and hydrate your skin, with a head massage – 40 minutes.

Kanebo Kai Zen facial
- a deep intensive cleansing, with face and neck massage – 1hr 40 minutes.

Elemis foot treatment
- a foot bath, pedicure and foot massage – 55 minutes.

c Listen to the two journalists talking after the first treatment and write the information in the chart. Listen again to check. Repeat for the second and third treatments.

d Listen to five extracts from the recording. Try to write down the missing word. How do you think you spell it? What do you think it means?

1 It was hot and _____ and incredibly uncomfortable.
2 The head massage was _____!
3 My face feels different – much _____.
4 I just use _____ and water.
5 I love the colour they painted my _____.

e Which of the treatments would you choose to have?
5 SPEAKING

Look at A man thing or a woman thing? Talk in small groups. In your country who does these things more, men or women? Why do you think this is?

Useful language

Generally speaking / In general, I think women go to spas more than men...

I think it’s more common for men to watch football...

I think women tend to read novels more than men...

Remember not to use an article when you generalize, e.g. I think men... NOT the men

5 VOCABULARY verbs and adjectives + prepositions

Men think that women always talk about trivial things. In fact, they cover more topics than when men talk to men.

a. Complete the prepositions column.

Verbs

1. Do you often talk a friend your problems?
2. Do you often think the future?
3. Do you often have to wait a bus or train?
4. Do you agree your friends about politics?
5. What dish or dishes do you usually ask in a restaurant?
6. Have you ever borrowed money your family?
7. Do you often write emails English-speaking people?
8. How often do you listen classical music?
9. Do you think a man should pay dinner on a first date?
10. Do you know anyone who works a multinational company?
11. Do you know anyone who works a DJ?
12. Are you going to apply a job soon?

Adjectives

13. Are you good sport?
14. Are you bad remembering birthdays?
15. Are men’s hobbies very different women’s hobbies?
16. Are you afraid insects?
17. Are you interested fashion?
18. Are you worried anything at the moment?

b. Cover the prepositions column. Work in pairs. A ask B the first question. B ask A the second question. Continue with the rest of the questions. Then swap roles.

7 qualifications /kwɔlɪfeɪʃənz/
8 resign /'rɪzɪn/
9 retire /'rɪtəri/
10 temporary /ˈtempərəri/

b 5.13 Listen and check. Practise saying the words.

c Talk to a partner.

Do you know anybody who...
• is applying for a job? What kind of job?
• has just retired? How old is he / she?
• has been promoted recently? What to?
• does a lot of overtime? Why?
• was sacked from his / her job? Why?
• is self-employed? What does he / she do?
• is doing a temporary job? What?
• has a part-time job? What hours does he / she work?

a Look at the picture story and match a sentence with each picture.

A But he was happy because he had a good salary and a company car. ☐
B He applied for a job with a food company, and sent in his CV. ☐
C He was sacked. Jake was unemployed again... ☐
D After six months he got promoted. ☐
E Jake was unemployed and was looking for a job. ☐
F He had to work very hard and do overtime. ☐
G But then he had an argument with his boss. ☐
H He had an interview, and he got the job. ☐

d Communication Test your memory
   A p.117 B p.120. Who can remember most about the programme?
e Do you think Jessica will pass the test? Why (not)?

1 The programme

The Pretenders is a very successful and popular TV series. In each programme there is a contestant who has just four weeks to learn to do a completely new job. At the end of the month the contestant has to do a 'test', where he or she has to do the new job together with three other real professionals. A panel of three judges has to decide which of the four people is pretending to be a professional. Sometimes they spot who is pretending, but sometimes they don't!

2

Jessica Winters is a 26-year-old librarian who lives in Southampton with her parents. She studied English Literature at the University of Bath before getting a job in her local library. She didn't know it, but two of her friends sent her name to the TV company to take part in The Pretenders. 'When someone from the programme phoned me, I thought it was a joke,' said Jessica. 'First of all I said no, but they asked me to think about it. In the end my friends and family persuaded me to say yes.'

3

Jessica had four weeks to turn from a quiet, shy, librarian into a confident TV reporter. At the end of the month she had to do her final test. This was a live TV interview with the Minister of Education. She had to try to make the judges think that she really was a professional reporter.

4

An experienced political journalist, Adam Bowles, and ex-MP Sally Lynch had the job of transforming Jessica. When they first met her, they were not very optimistic. 'Jessica needs to be a lot tougher. She's much too sweet and shy,' said Adam. 'Politicians will eat her alive.' They had just 28 days to teach her to be a reporter...

5

Jessica had to spend the month in London. She was completely isolated from her family and friends - she could only talk to them on the phone. The training was very hard work. She had to learn how to interview people, how to look more confident, how to speak clearly. She also had to learn about the world of politics. 'I'm feeling really nervous,' said Jessica. 'I'm terrified of the idea of being on TV. Also I've never been interested in politics - I don't know anything about it - I didn't even vote in the last elections.'
5 LISTENING

You’re going to hear Jessica and her teacher Adam talking about how she did in her four weeks on The Pretenders. Listen to each week and answer the questions in pairs.

Week 1

1. What did Adam and Sally think of Jessica?
2. According to Adam, what two problems did Jessica have?
3. What three things did Jessica have to do this week?
4. How did she feel at the end of the week?

Week 2

5. How did Jessica change her image?
6. What did she learn to do this week?
7. What did she have to do at 10 Downing Street?
8. Was she successful? Why (not)?

Week 3

9. What did Adam think about Jessica?
10. What did she have to do this week?
11. What mistake did she make?
12. What did Adam say that Jessica needed to do?

Week 4

13. What was Jessica’s final test? How did she feel about it?
14. Did the interview go well for Jessica? Why (not)?
15. Did the judges realize that Jessica wasn’t a professional reporter?
16. Would Jessica like to become a reporter? Why (not)?

6 SPEAKING

Talk to a partner. Imagine you were asked to appear on the programme. Look at the list of jobs that other contestants trained to do. Which ones would / wouldn’t you like to learn to do? Why?

Mark OK, well I think Scarlett _____ visit the major music stores. In my _____, that's the best way to meet her fans.
Allie I'm not so ____. What do you ____, Jacques?
Jacques Actually, I don't _____ with Mark. Scarlett isn't commercial in that way.
Allie Scarlett? Scarlett?
Scarlett I agree _____ Jacques. I don't have a commercial image. It isn't my style.
Mark OK, but Scarlett needs more publicity. What about a series of TV and radio interviews? _____ you agree?
Allie Yes, but that's what everybody does. What we want is something different.
Jacques _____, I think Scarlett should tour clubs and summer festivals. She can DJ, play her favourite music, play the new CD, and meet her fans, too.
Allie Yes, ____! That's a much better idea. Mark?
Mark OK, why not?
Allie Scarlett?
Scarlett I think that's a _____ idea. Thank you, Jacques.

CAN YOU UNDERSTAND THIS TEXT?

The secret to a long and happy life is... being lazy!

Joggers who get up early and run through the park, executives who try to work off stress with a game of squash, and people who do bodybuilding may all be shortening their lives. According to Peter Axt, a German researcher and ex-marathon runner, laziness is good for you.

'No top sportsman,' says Axt, 'has lived to a very advanced age.' Among the examples of athletes who have died young, he mentions Jim Fixx, the author of The Complete Book of Running, and the man who almost single-handedly launched the American fitness revolution. He died at the age of 52. As Axt says, 'Better not to start.'

With his daughter Michaela, a doctor, he has written a book called The Joy of Laziness. It says that there are three keys to long life:
- to play less sport, to reduce stress, and to eat less food. He gives the example of an Italian village with an unusually high number of centenarians which seems to owe its communal good health to following the Axt principles. No one runs, siestas stretch though the afternoon from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., and the main activity seems to be sitting in the shade.
- The Axts' ideas are based on research which argues that animals have only a limited amount of energy. Those who use up energy quickly live for a shorter time than those who conserve energy. So an executive who wants to compensate for a stressful day by going to the gym is in fact multiplying his problems.

However, Peter Axt believes that light exercise is beneficial. 'I jog gently for 20 minutes three or four times a week,' he said, 'but I have no time for men over 50 who insist on running several kilometres a day.'

Making a complaint – is it worth it?

A As the machine was no longer under guarantee, Mr Thomas called a local repairer. He charged him £45 to look at it and then told him that he would need to spend £650 plus VAT for a new part. Then he took the laptop to a well-known computer retailer – and they told him to buy a new one!

B Another customer’s experience shows that it’s worth complaining to the top people of a company if the local company staff are unhelpful.

C ‘Four days later, someone called me to say the DVD recorder was waiting for me and I could collect 10 recordable DVD discs to compensate for my wasted time,’ he says. ‘And when I collected them I was treated like royalty.’

D Mark Oakley from Norfolk wanted to buy a recordable DVD player. At his local branch of Argos, a shop which sells electrical goods, they told him that they didn’t have the one he wanted in stock, but that they were expecting a delivery ‘soon’. However, when he went back, it still hadn’t arrived.

E Is it really worth complaining when goods or services are not satisfactory? According to a new report from the consumer magazine Which?, it certainly is. As they point out, the old saying ‘if you don’t ask, you don’t get’ is true for many situations, but particularly so when it comes to compensation. Take the case of Mike Thomas from Cornwall. He bought a Toshiba laptop computer, but just three years later he found that it was getting slower and slower.

F He returned twice more over the following weeks but each time they told him to come back in a week. He started phoning and trying to reserve the machine instead. But after several weeks of phoning unsuccessfully, Mr Oakley lost patience and wrote to the managing director of Argos.

G However, Mr Thomas still felt that his computer should not be out of date after just three years. He decided to write a letter of complaint to Toshiba. A short time later, the company collected the laptop, diagnosed a software problem, repaired it, and returned it with a new battery, all without charge. ‘I’d call that outstanding service,’ said Mr Thomas.

a If you have a problem with something you’ve bought, or with the service in a shop, do you usually complain? Who to? If not, why not?

b Read the article about complaining and number the paragraphs in order 1–7.

e Now read the last part of the article. Complete the tips with a phrase from below. Which two tips do you think are the most important?

Be reasonable Keep a record Don’t lose your temper Act quickly Always go to the top

Top tips for complaining

1 when there’s a problem and give the company a chance to sort it out.

2 , and ask to speak to the manager. He / She is the one who can compensate you.

3 – note the date, time, and name of the person you’ve spoken to, and what was agreed.

4 . Getting angry won’t help at all.

5 – if a company apologizes and makes a genuine effort to compensate you, be prepared to meet it halfway.

1 READING

a) Have you ever seen a film which made you want to go to the place where the film was made?

b) Read the article and try to complete each text with the name of the film and the country where it was made. Use the photos to help you.

Famous films that moved us (literally!)

Sometimes when you see a film, the sense of place is so strong that it makes you think 'I have to go there one day'. Here are three films, from three different decades, that have made thousands of people pack their cases and catch a plane. There's travel information too, in case you want to go there yourself...

The film is set in the 1990s on a small tropical island. It is based on a best-selling book by the young author Alex Garland and it was directed by the British director, Danny Boyle. It's about a young traveller (played by Leonardo DiCaprio) who finds a group of young people living on a beautiful, uninhabited island. But paradise soon turns into a nightmare...

Where was it filmed?
The film was shot on the beautiful island of Phi Phi Leh in Thailand, which is now visited by more than a million tourists every year. Most of the hotels were destroyed in 2004 by the tsunami but they have now been rebuilt.

How do I get there?
Fly to Phuket International airport and travel to the island by boat or small plane.

2

This film was nominated for 11 Oscars and it won seven. It's about a Danish writer (Meryl Streep) who goes to Africa to help her husband run a coffee plantation. To her surprise, she finds herself falling in love with the country, the people, and a mysterious white hunter (Robert Redford). The film was based on an autobiographical novel by the Danish writer, Isak Dinesen, and was directed by the American director Sydney Pollack.

Where was it filmed?
The story is set in 1914 and was shot on location in the Masai Mara National Park. Apart from the actors, the 'stars' of the film are the breathtaking scenery and the exotic wildlife, which look so wonderful on the big screen. The film also had an unforgettable soundtrack guaranteed to move even the most unromantic.

How do I get there?
Fly to Nairobi and then drive to the Masai Mara National Reserve where the cast and film crew lived during filming. Then take a three-day safari to see giraffes, elephants, lions, and much more.

The film won the Oscar for Best Picture and the following year tourism replaced agriculture as the country's top industry.
This trilogy of films won a total of 17 Oscars, including Best Picture and Best Director. They are based on the books written by JRR Tolkien. They tell the story of a hobbit, Frodo Baggins, who has to try and destroy a magic ring in order to defeat the evil forces of the Dark Lord Sauron. He is helped on his journey by a group of friends.

Where was it filmed?
The story is set in an imaginary land called Middle Earth. All three films were filmed in which was chosen because of its magnificent and dramatic scenery. The director of the film, Peter Jackson, was born there. The success of the films has attracted thousands of tourists to the country, and last year it was voted the most popular holiday destination by UK travellers.

How do I get there?
You can either fly to Auckland or Wellington, the capital city (where you will be greeted by a huge sign saying ‘Welcome to Middle Earth’). From there you can travel to visit all the fantastic film locations, including the battlefields. There are guided tours by road or helicopter.

c Read the article again and answer the questions.
Which film(s)...?
1 had three parts
2 were based on a book
3 was set at the beginning of the 20th century
4 was set in a place where later there was a natural disaster
5 was filmed in a wildlife park
6 didn’t win an Oscar
7 was a romantic film
8 was directed by a man born in the country where the film was made.

5 The photo, ______ was taken in 1960, is probably one of the best-known photos in the world.
6 The people ______ wear Che T-shirts tend to be people ______ don't conform.
e Compare your sentences 1 and 2 with text A. Find three differences.
f  p.140 Grammar Bank 6C. Read the rules and do the exercises.
g Cover the text and look at the photos. Can you remember the connections with Che?
A This is the motorbike that was used in the film The Motorcycle Diaries. It is a 1939 Norton 500cc, which is the same model as the motorbike that belonged to Che's friend Alberto. The film, whose theme song won an Oscar, is based on the motorbike journey Che made with Alberto across South America. Che was from a rich family in Argentina and it was the poverty he saw on this trip that made him decide that revolution was the only answer to South America's problems.

B Gael García Bernal is the actor who played Che in the film The Motorcycle Diaries. He is from Guadalajara in Mexico, and has also starred in And your mother too and Pedro Almodóvar's Bad Education.

C Rosario is the town in Argentina where Ernesto 'Che' Guevara was born on 14th May 1928. He was the first of five children, and his parents, Ernesto and Celia, were political radicals. From the age of two the young Che suffered from asthma, but his father told him that learning to live with his illness would make him a stronger person.

D Alberto Korda was the photographer whose photo now appears on T-shirts and posters all over the world. The photo, which was taken in 1960, is probably one of the best-known photos in the world – but Korda never received a penny in royalties. However, five years ago he took the people who had made money from the photo to court, and won £30,000, which he gave to the Cuban health service.

E Aleidita, daughter of Che and his second wife Aleida, was his favourite child. She says that she doesn't think that Che would mind that his photo has been so commercialized. 'Look at the people who wear Che T-shirts,' she says. 'They tend to be people who don't conform, who are wondering if they can be better human beings. My father would have liked that.'

e In pairs, look at the photos and say why these people are heroes.

Heroes and icons of our time

Time magazine has chosen a list of people called the Time 100. These are people who, the magazine believes, have an enormous impact on today’s world and who inspire millions of people. The category Heroes and Icons includes a whole variety of people from a queen to a footballer, from politicians to a multi-millionaire rock star.

A ☐, one of the world’s greatest footballers, has used his hero status on the pitch to fight racism in football. After he saw black players from the England team being insulted by spectators in an international match, he started the campaign ‘Stand up, Speak out’. He has raised nearly $16 million for anti-racism groups through the sales of black and white bracelets.

‘You probably can’t change the racists,’ he says, ‘but you can make the silent majority stand up and speak out against them. That way we will make them feel less comfortable. In a few years’ time I want to be able to watch a football match and not hear a single racist insult.’

B ☐ is helping her husband to ‘try to reconcile tradition with modernity’ in their country. But outside her country, along with the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and others, she is working to try to make sure that all children everywhere get vaccinated. As she reminds us, there are more than 30 million children a year who get no vaccinations during their first year of life, so up to 10% of them will die.

C ☐, one of the world’s biggest rock stars, is also Africa’s biggest defender. When he and his wife Ali first went to Africa, they worked in a refugee camp for a month. On the day they were leaving, a man approached him carrying a baby. ‘This is my son,’ the man said. ‘Please take him with you when you leave. If you do, he will live. Otherwise he will die.’ He couldn’t take the child, but since then he has been working tirelessly to raise money to free Africa from hunger and poverty.

Tim Hudson reviews a DVD which every film lover should own.

1 Cinema Paradiso was directed by Giuseppe Tornatore. It stars Philippe Noiret as Alfredo, and Salvatore Cascio, who plays the part of the boy. The film won an Oscar in 1989 as Best Foreign Language film.

2 The film is set in an Italian village in the 1940s and 50s. It was filmed on location in Sicily.

3 The film is about a little boy called Salvatore who ends up becoming a famous film director. The beginning of the film, he goes to his village for the first time in thirty years, for the funeral of an old friend, Alfredo. The rest of the film is a ‘flashback’ about his childhood. His village there is only one cinema, called Cinema Paradiso. Salvatore is crazy about films so he spends all his time there. He becomes friends with Alfredo, the man who shows the films, and later he works as his assistant. But when he is a teenager he leaves the village and goes to work in Rome, and the end he becomes a famous director. He never sees Alfredo again.

4 I strongly recommend Cinema Paradiso. It makes you laugh and cry, it has a memorable soundtrack, and it is a moving tribute to the magic of the early days of cinema.

CAN YOU UNDERSTAND THIS TEXT?

Designer brands aren’t for me!

Although I follow fashion, I hate the phrase ‘must-have’. If I read that Ugg boots or Prada sunglasses are the latest ‘must-haves’, my immediate reaction is to think, ‘Why must I have them?’ Why should I fall for the designer’s manipulative tactics, which are only intended to increase his bank balance at the expense of mine?

Designer brands, in general, are for people who are too insecure to trust their own tastes. These people decide that everything at Prada must be ‘cool’, so if you shop there, you can’t go wrong. I find it much more satisfying to pop into one of the cheap chain stores on the High Street and buy a copy of the designer’s clothes for a tenth of the price. OK, you have to use your skill to find the one garment in three that looks great. But it’s worth it! It’s like finding a piece of gold in a river. The find gives you immense satisfaction.

Which is why, according to a survey done by a British bank, young people with money are abandoning the designer shops and buying their clothes in chain stores, second-hand shops, and in markets. This is the best news I’ve heard all week. It means that young people have the confidence to trust their judgement. They are prepared to take risks to look individual and not mass-produced.

That has always been my shopping philosophy. The exorbitant prices in designer shops leave me open-mouthed. Even if I had the money, I would think of all the other things I could spend it on!

Can we make our own luck?

1 READING & LISTENING

a. Read the article Bad luck? In pairs, decide what you think happened next.

b. 21 Now listen to what happened. Were you right?

c. Listen again and check. Then in pairs, write two sentences to explain how the story ended.

d. 22 Now do the same for Good luck?

Bad luck? I missed you!

Ian Johnson, a 27-year-old builder, went to work in Australia for a year, leaving behind his girlfriend, Amy. Ian and Amy missed each other a lot and after being six months apart Ian planned a surprise. Without telling Amy he caught a plane back to England to see her. After a 24-hour flight via Singapore and a 17,600-kilometre journey he finally arrived at her house in Yorkshire in the north of England, carrying flowers, champagne, and an engagement ring. He rang the doorbell, but nobody answered. He had a key to her house so he opened the door and went in. The house was empty. Ian thought Amy had gone out for the evening and sat down to wait for her to come back. Tired after his long journey, he fell asleep. When he woke up, his phone was ringing...

Good luck? Is there a doctor on the plane?

Mrs Dorothy Fletcher was travelling with her daughter and her daughter's fiancé on a flight from London to Florida. Her daughter was going to be married there the following week. When they changed planes in Philadelphia they had to rush between terminals to catch the connecting flight and Mrs Fletcher, aged 67, began to feel ill.

'I didn’t say anything to my daughter because I didn’t want to worry her or miss the wedding,' said Mrs Fletcher. But when the plane took off from Philadelphia she suddenly got a terrible pain in her chest, back, and arm — she was having a heart attack. The cabin crew put out a desperate call to the passengers: 'If there is a doctor on the plane, could you please press your call bell...'
2 GRAMMAR  third conditional a  Complete the two sentences from the listening in 1c.

1 Ian
If one of us had ______ at home, we ______ have met.

2 Mrs Fletcher
If those doctors ______ been on the plane, I would ______ died.

b  Listen and check.

c  Look at sentences 1 and 2 above and answer the questions.
1 Did Ian or Amy stay at home? Did they meet?
2 Were the doctors on the plane? Did Mrs Fletcher die?
3 Do sentences 1 and 2 refer to something that happened or something that didn't happen?

d  p.142 Grammar Bank 7A. Read the rules and do the exercises.

3 PRONUNCIATION  sentence stress

a  24 Listen and repeat the sentences. Copy the rhythm.
1 If you'd told me earlier, I would have gone too.
2 If the weather had been better, we would have stayed longer.
3 If I hadn't stopped for petrol, I would have arrived before he left.
4 We would have been late if we hadn't taken a taxi.
5 She wouldn't have come if she'd known he was here.
6 It would have been cheaper if we'd booked last month.

b  Communication  Guess the conditional A p.118 B p.121.

4 SPEAKING

a  Read the questionnaire and mark your answers.

b  Compare your answers with a partner. Give more information if you can.

c  Now look at what your scores mean. Do you agree with the results?

How lucky are you?

Read the following statements and write a number 1-3 in the box.
3 = This is usually true about me.
2 = This is sometimes true about me.
1 = This is hardly ever true about me.

1 I enjoy talking to people I haven't met before.
2 I don't worry or feel anxious about life.
3 I enjoy trying new food and drink.
4 I listen to my instinct.
5 When I need to calm down I just go to a quiet place.
6 I try to learn from my mistakes.
7 I try to get what I want from life.
8 I expect people I meet to be pleasant, friendly, and helpful.
9 I'm an optimist. I look on the bright side of life.
10 When things are bad I think things will get better soon.
11 I don't think about bad luck I have had in the past.
12 I expect good things to happen to me in the future.

You can use this information to reflect on your own situation or share your results with a partner. Discuss the topics further and try to come to some conclusions.

28-36 You are probably someone who is lucky. If you are lucky and have luck, you will probably have more positive and successful situations. You may wish to analyze your life and the things that have happened to you.

19-27 You are quite lucky but you could be luckier. If you are lucky, look back at your life and think about how you could have been luckier.

12-18 You are naturally unlucky and you don't attract good luck. You need to become more positive and learn to handle difficult situations. You should start looking for new opportunities. You can change your luck by learning to become more optimistic and positive.

Your score
Can we make our own luck?

Some people seem to be born lucky – they meet their perfect partners, achieve their ambitions, and live happy lives.

The British psychologist Dr Richard Wiseman has done a lot of research to discover why some people are luckier than others. After interviewing hundreds of people with the questionnaire on p. 101 he has concluded that people who think they are lucky achieve more success and happiness than those who don’t. Without realizing it, they are creating good fortune in their lives.

Using Dr Wiseman’s techniques you too can understand, control, and increase your own good fortune.

EXERCISES

A Make a list of your goals. They must be specific, not vague, e.g. ‘I want to spend more time with my partner’, not ‘I want to be happy’. Now make a second list of all the advantages you would get if you achieved your goals, and the disadvantages. Compare the advantages with the disadvantages and you will see which goals are worth trying to achieve.

B Make a list of six new experiences you’d like to try. These could be simple, like eating at a new restaurant, or long term, for example learning a new language. Number the experiences 1–6. Then throw a dice and whatever experience is chosen, go out and do it.

C When you experience bad luck, first cry or scream for 30 minutes. Then put your bad luck behind you. Do something to make the situation better, e.g. ask friends for advice and focus on a solution to the problem.

D If you are trying to decide between two options, write one of them down in the form of a letter. For example, if you are unhappy about a relationship, write to your partner explaining that it’s all over. Read the letter. Would you really like to send it or is something telling you that it doesn’t feel right? If so, don’t do it.
c Read just the article again (not the EXERCISES). Cover the text and from memory complete the expressions below with a verb or phrase. Then look at the text again and check your answers.

1. s______ to be = give the impression of being
2. a______ their ambitions = make their ambitions come true
3. v______ your routine = change your routine, make it different
4. b______ i______ an old friend = meet an old friend by chance
5. m______ an e______ to relax = try hard to relax
6. c______ yourself that your future will be bright = make yourself believe that your future will be bright
7. r______ that things aren’t so bad = understand that things aren’t so bad

d Read EXERCISES A–D on p.102 again. Which one do you think is the best for making you luckier?

7 75 SONG ♫ Ironic
One of the great unsolved murder mysteries of all time is that of ‘Jack the Ripper’.

In the autumn of 1888 a brutal murderer walked the dark, foggy streets of London, terrorizing the inhabitants of the city. The victims were all women and the police seemed powerless to stop the murders. Panic and fear among Londoners was increased by a letter sent by the murderer to Scotland Yard. In the letter he made fun of the police’s attempts to catch him and promised to kill again. It finished, ‘Yours truly, Jack the Ripper’. This was the first of many letters sent to the police. The murders continued – seven in total. But in November, they suddenly stopped, three months after they had first begun.

Jack the Ripper was never caught and for more than a century historians, writers, policemen, and detectives have tried to discover and prove his identity. Hundreds of articles and books have been written and many films made about the murders. But the question ‘Who was Jack the Ripper?’ has remained unanswered. There have been plenty of suspects, including a doctor, a businessman, a painter, and even a member of the royal family.

Three years ago the American crime writer Patricia Cornwell left aside her fictional detective, Kay Scarpetta, and tried to solve the real-life murder mystery of Jack the Ripper. After spending a considerable amount of time and money on her investigation, and analyzing DNA samples, Cornwell thinks she has proved who Jack the Ripper really was...
Now listen to the first part of an interview with Ken Morton, an expert on Jack the Ripper. Complete the information about the suspects. Tick (V) the person who Patricia Cornwell says is Jack the Ripper.

2 GRAMMAR question tags

Listen to four questions the interviewer asked Ken Morton and complete them with the missing words.
1. You were a detective with Scotland Yard, _____?
2. It's incredible, _____?
3. But you don't think she's right, _____?
4. There's been another recent theory, _____?

Now look at questions 1–4. Does the interviewer think she knows how the inspector is going to answer?

2 Pronunciation & Speaking intonation in question tags

Listen and complete the dialogue between a policeman and a suspect.

P Your surname's Jones, _____?
S Yes, it is.
P And you're 27, _____?
S Yes, that's right.
P You weren't at home last night at 8.00, _____?

c How do Inspector Brunetti and Signora Trevisan behave during the interview? Do you think Signora Trevisan killed her husband?

Carlo Trevisan, an important international lawyer is found dead in the carriage of an intercity train at Santa Lucia. Brunetti goes to interview his wife, Signora Trevisan.

I'd like to ask you some questions about your personal life, signora.'

'Our personal life?' she repeated. as though she had never heard of such a thing.

When he didn't answer this, she nodded, signalling him to begin.

'Could you tell me how long you and your husband were married?'

'Nineteen years.'

'How many children do you have, signora?'

'Two. Claudio is seventeen and Francesca is fifteen'.

'Are they in school in Venice, signora?'

She looked up at him sharply when he asked this.

'Why do you want to know that?'

'My own daughter, Chiara, is fourteen, so perhaps they know each other,' he answered, and smiled to show what an innocent question it had been.

'Claudio is in school in Switzerland, but Francesca is here. With us. I mean,' she corrected, rubbing a hand across her forehead, 'with me.'

'Would you say yours was a happy marriage, signora?'

'Yes,' she answered immediately, far faster than Brunetti would have answered the same question, though he would have given the same response. She did not, however, elaborate.

'Could you tell me if your husband had any particularly close friends or business associates?'

She looked up at this question, then as quickly down again at her hands.

'Our closest friends are the Nogares, Mirto and Grazziella. He's an architect who lives in Campo Sant’Angelo. They’re Francesca’s godparents. I don’t know about business associates: you’ll have to ask Ubaldo'.

'Other friends, signora?'

'Why do you need to know all this?' she said, voice rising sharply.

'I’d like to learn more about your husband, signora.'

'Why?' The question leaped from her, almost as if beyond her volition.

'Until I understand what sort of man he was, I can’t understand why this has happened.'

'A robbery?' she asked, voice just short of sarcasm.

'It wasn’t robbery. Whoever killed him intended to do it.'
d) Look at four questions from the book extract. How are 1 and 3 different from 2 and 4?

Couple switch on after 37 years without power

An elderly couple are going to swap candles for light bulbs after 37 years without electricity at their Suffolk home. Pat Payne, 74, and his wife Margaret, 72, brought up their large family in their farmhouse in Wherstead, near Bury St Edmunds, without any modern appliances.

Their children left home years ago but now one of them has moved back and is paying £19,000 to have electricity put in the 200-year-old house next month. Mrs Payne said that she was looking forward to 'being modernized' but does not feel that she has missed much by not having electricity.

'It would have been nice to have been able to do the ironing or to have a vacuum cleaner instead of having to sweep the floor, but we got by,' she said. 'I think our children are more excited about us getting electricity than we are.'

The couple have mostly lived off the land. Mr Payne, a former farm labourer, grows vegetables in the garden. Without a fridge or freezer in the three-bedroom house, milk is delivered every other day and fresh meat is bought as needed. Water comes from a well.

Mrs Payne used to wash clothes by hand, and with nine children that was a lot of clothes, but she believes that not having electricity may have been a good thing for her children while they were growing up. 'Instead of watching television, they played together and used to make up games or read books,' she said.

The life also suited her and her husband. 'Neither of us has ever been seriously ill and we rarely get a cough or cold,' Mrs Payne said. 'With our fresh vegetables and not having central heating it's been a very healthy way to live.' The couple have 24 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

5 READING
a You're going to read an article about a couple who lived without electricity for 37 years. Which two of these things do you think they missed most?
- central heating
- an iron
- electric light
- a TV
- a freezer
- a vacuum cleaner
- a fridge
- a washing machine

b Read the article once. Were you right? Do they regret living without electricity for so long?

c Read the article again. Then cover the text and say what the following numbers refer to.

| 37 | 74 and 72 | 19,000 | 200 | 3 | 9 | 24 | 8 |

d Answer the questions in pairs.
1. Do any of their children still live with them?
2. How does Mrs Payne feel about the house being modernized?
3. Was it a really big problem for her not having an iron or a vacuum cleaner?
4. Where did they get most of their food from?
5. Why does Mrs Payne think that not having electricity was good for the children?
6. How was it good for her and her husband?

a Read an article for a student magazine about the advantages and disadvantages of living without a TV. The computer has found ten mistakes (grammar, punctuation, or spelling). Can you correct them?

Living without a TV

Almost every family today have a TV, in fact probably more than one, and people everywhere spend hours watching it. But a few families choose to live without a TV because they think there are advantages. The first advantage is that families spend more time talk to each other. Secondly, they spend more time doing more creative things like reading or painting. Thirdly, they spend more time outdoors, and are usually more fit.

On the other hand, there are also disadvantages. For example, children who don’t have a TV may feel different from their school friends, and often won’t know what they are talking about. Also it is not true that all TV programmes are bad. There are also good ones, like documentaries, and people who live without a TV may know less about what’s happening in the world.

In conclusion, although living without a TV has some advantages, I think today it’s unrealistic and that we should just try to turn the TV on when there’s nothing good on.

b Read the article again. Then cover it and in pairs answer the questions from memory.
1 What are the three advantages of life without a TV?
2 What are the two disadvantages?
3 Is the writer for or against having a TV?

You are going to write a similar article about mobile phones. First, with a partner, make a list of the advantages and disadvantages.

d Now decide which are the three biggest advantages and number them 1–3 (1 = the biggest). Do the same with the disadvantages.

b Look at the highlighted phrasal verbs. What do they mean?

The man who missed the lottery bus

YESTERDAY bus driver Dennis Hassall was behind the wheel as usual, reflecting on his fate as one of the unluckiest men in Britain. Just six months earlier, he decided to give up playing the lottery with his 11 workmates after four years of paying every week but winning almost nothing.

But last Saturday night, his workmates, who had carried on playing, each received a cheque for £744,126. While they toasted their success with champagne, Mr Hassall worked his morning shift, driving a number 7 bus between Plymouth and Plymstock in Devon. He refused to talk to journalists.

The winners said they were very sorry for Dennis, but they were not going to share the money with him. ‘He hasn’t paid his contribution since last summer,’ winner Chris Robinson said. ‘He must be feeling pretty bad. But as far as I know, he has wished us all the best of luck. All the winners are now planning to retire. For Les Read, aged 53, the win couldn’t have come at a better time. Two weeks ago he failed an eyesight test and is no longer able to drive. ‘If I hadn’t won the lottery, I’d have been unemployed,’ fellow winner Ian Crampton, 46, the man who picked out the six winning numbers, has been off work for several weeks and is having chemotherapy and radiotherapy for a cancer-related illness. ‘Now I don’t have to worry about going back to work,’ he said.

The leader of the lottery syndicate, Dave Mallet, said, ‘We all feel very sorry for Dennis, but he knew the rules. It’s OK if you don’t pay for two weeks, but any more than that and you’re out. It wouldn’t be fair on the others. I haven’t spoken to Dennis yet, but we will be inviting him to the party we’re going to have at the social club. But I don’t know if he’ll turn up.’

6A I want to speak to the manager

a Look at the situations and roleplay the conversations. Spend a few minutes preparing what you are going to say.

1 You're a customer. You bought something in a clothes shop in the sales yesterday (decide what) and there's a problem (decide what).
Go back to the shop. B is the shop assistant. You'd like to change it for another identical one. If you can't, you'd like a refund. If you aren't satisfied, ask the shop assistant to call the manager.

You start. Excuse me. I bought...

2 You're the manager of a restaurant. Your normal chef is off this week, and you have a temporary chef who is not very good. One of the waiters has had a problem with a customer, who would like to speak to you. When customers complain you usually offer them a free drink or coffee. If it's absolutely necessary, you might give a 10% discount on their bill, but you would prefer not to.

B is the customer.

B will start.

6C Relatives quiz Student A

7A Guess the conditional Student A a Look at sentences 1–5 and think of the missing verb. Remember ✗ = positive verb, ☐ = negative verb.

1 If it had been cheaper, I _______ it. ✗
2 If I _______ that it was your birthday, I would have made a cake. ✗
3 I _______ so angry if you had told me the truth. ☐
4 I would have written to you if I _______ your email address. ☐
5 If you _______ to me, you wouldn't have married him. ✗

b Read your sentence 1 to B. If it's not the same, try again until B tells you 'That's right'. Then write it in. Continue with 2–5.

c Listen to B say sentence 6. If it's the same as 6 below, say 'That's right'. If not, say 'Try again' until B gets it right. Continue with 7–10.

6 If I had listened to that CD first, I wouldn't have bought it.
7 I would have paid for her if I hadn't paid last time!
8 If you had put the milk in the fridge, it wouldn't have gone bad.
9 I would have gone with you last night if I hadn't seen the film before.
10 If I'd recognized him, I would have said hello.

7B Just checking Student A a You are a police inspector. B is a suspect. Ask B the questions below but don't write anything down. Try to remember B's answers.

What's your name? Do you smoke?
Where do you live? What car do you drive?
How old are you? How long have you lived in this town?
Where were you born? What did you do last night?
Are you married? Where were you this morning at 7.00?
What do you do?

b Now check the information with B using a question tag.

Your name's Angela, isn't it? You live in Berlin, don't you?

c Change roles. Now you are the suspect and B is the detective. Answer his / her questions. You can invent the information if you want to.

d A will now check the information he / she has. Just say, 'Yes, that's right' or 'No, that's wrong.' Correct the wrong information.

Practical English 7 I'm so sorry! Student A a  Answer A's first question. Use Personally, I think or In my opinion Say why.

b  Ask A your question number 1. Then say if you agree or disagree with A. If you disagree, Use I don't agree, ..., Personally, I think..., etc.

c  Continue taking turns to ask questions and give your opinions.

1  Do you think it is easier to learn to drive or to learn to swim?
2  Do you think it's better to be an only child or have brothers or sisters?
3  Do you think that men are better cooks than women?
4  Which do you think is more dangerous, travelling by plane or travelling by car?
5  Do you think that it is a waste of money to buy designer clothes?
6A I want to speak to the manager

Student B

a Look at the situations and roleplay the conversations. Spend a few minutes preparing what you are going to say.

You’re a shop assistant in a clothes shop. A is going to come to you with a problem with something he/she bought in the sales yesterday. You can’t change it for an identical one because there are no more in his/her size. Try to persuade A to change it for something else, because you don’t usually give refunds during the sales.

A will start.

You’re a customer in a restaurant. You have just finished your meal and you didn’t enjoy it at all (what was wrong with it?). You complained to the waiter but the waiter didn’t solve the problem. You have asked the waiter to call the manager. Try to get at least a 50% discount on your meal. A is the manager.

You start. Good evening. Are you the manager?

6C Relatives quiz

Student B

a Complete the questions to describe the bold word. Begin with who, which, that, whose, where (or no relative pronoun when there is a new subject).

1 shy
What do you call a person...?
2 a referee
What do you call the person...?
3 a classroom
What’s the name of the place...?
4 a trolley
What do you call the thing...?
5 a dentist
What do you call a person...?
6 a receipt
What do you call the piece of paper...?
7 a taxi rank
What do you call the place...?
8 a close friend
What do you call a person...?

b Answer A’s questions.

c Ask A your questions.

7A Guess the conditional

Student B

a Look at sentences 6–10 and think of the missing verb. Remember + = positive verb, - = negative verb.

6 If I had listened to that CD first, I _______ it. +
7 I would have paid for her if I _______ last time! -
8 If you _______ the milk in the fridge, it wouldn’t have gone bad. +
9 I would have gone with you last night if I _______ the film before. - 10 If I’d recognized him, I _______ hello. - b Listen to A say sentence 1. If it’s the same as 1 below, say ’That’s right.’ If not, say ’Try again’ until A gets it right. Continue with 2-5.

1 If it had been cheaper, I _______ it.
2 If I _______ that it was your birthday, I would have made a cake.
3 I _______ have been so angry if you had told me the truth.
4 If you _______ written to you if I _______ your email address.
5 If you _______ to me, you wouldn’t have married him.

C Read your sentence 6 to A. If it’s not the same, try again until A tells you ’That’s right.’ Then write it in. Continue with 7-10.

7B Just checking

Student B

a You are a suspect. A is a police inspector. Answer A’s questions. You can invent the information if you want to.

b A will now check the information he/she has. Just say, ’Yes, that’s right’ or ’No, that’s wrong.’ Correct the wrong information.

c Change roles. Now you are a police inspector and A is a suspect. Ask A the questions below but don’t write anything down. Try to remember A’s answers.

What’s your name? | Do you smoke?
Where do you live? | What car do you drive?
How old are you? | How long have you lived in this town?
Where were you born? | What did you do last night?
Are you married? | Where were you this morning at 7.00?
What do you do?

d Now check the information with A using a question tag.

Your name’s Angela, isn’t it? You live in Berlin, don’t you?

Practical English 7 I’m so sorry!

Student B

a A is going to tell you about some things you’ve done. Apologize and make an excuse.

b A has done some very irritating things! Tell A what he/she has done. A will apologize and make an excuse.

You didn’t pay me back the money I lent you!
You haven’t introduced me to your friend!
You’re sitting in my seat!
You finished all the milk in the fridge!
You didn’t reply to my email yesterday!

1.1

Interviewer: Rumiko, what do you eat in a typical day?

Rumiko: I don’t usually have breakfast because I can’t get up early enough to eat! I normally just buy a coffee and drink it in the office.

I usually have lunch in a restaurant near the office with people from work. When I was younger, I used to go to fast food restaurants and have pizza, or tried chicken and chips, but now I prefer eating something healthier, so I go to sushi restaurants or restaurants which serve organic food. And for dinner I eat out a lot too.

Interviewer: Do you ever cook?

Rumiko: Well, I like cooking, but I work very late every day and also my kitchen’s too small. My boyfriend’s a better cook anyway.

Interviewer: Do you ever eat unhealthy food?

Rumiko: Well, I do have days when I feel like eating something sweet but I drink a lot of coffee every day, so I think I’m addicted to caffeine.

Interviewer: Are you trying to cut down on anything at the moment?

Rumiko: No, I eat healthily and I do exercise regularly, so I don’t think I need to cut down on food.

Interviewer: Are people’s diets in your country getting better or worse?

Rumiko: Oh, probably worse. I think the diet in Japan today is much more westernized than before and that’s why some people are getting fatter. But personally I like the fact that there are more different kinds of food and restaurants now. I enjoy the variety, it makes eating much more fun.

Interviewer: Kevin, why did you decide to open a restaurant in Chile?

Kevin: I’d always wanted to have my own restaurant and it would have been very expensive to do that in England. I’d visited Chile as a tourist and loved it, and I thought it would be a good place because Chilenos are very pro-European, and there are a lot of new food ideas. So I opened Frederick’s.

Interviewer: Right. Why did you call the restaurant Frederick?

Kevin: Because Frederick’s my father’s name. It’s my second name too.

Interviewer: What kind of food do you serve?

Kevin: Mainly international dishes like pasta, steak and fries, risotto - we also do several English dishes as well.

Interviewer: Were Chilean people surprised when they heard that an English chef was going to open a restaurant here?

Kevin: Yes, they were! I think people don’t usually expect the English to be good cooks.

Interviewer: Is your chef English?

Kevin: No, he’s Chilean - but I’ve taught him to make some English dishes.

Interviewer: What kind of English dishes do you have on your menu?

Kevin: We’re open in the morning, and we serve traditional English breakfasts, and then we have a lot of English desserts at lunchtime, for example trifle - that’s a typical English desert made with fruit and cream and custard. And we do proper English tea in the afternoon - tea with cakes or sandwiches.

Interviewer: Are the English dishes popular?

Kevin: Yes, especially the desserts and cakes. I think people here have a very sweet tooth!

Interviewer: People who visit England always say that the food isn’t very good, or that you have to spend a lot of money to eat well. Do you agree?

Kevin: I think eating good food’s never cheap. But I think that today, the best place to find food in England is in a pub, especially the ones called gastropubs - pubs which are also restaurants. These pubs are beginning to serve really good food, and it’s not that expensive.

Interviewer: I see. You said earlier that your chef was a man. Do you have any women working in your kitchen?

Kevin: Yes, one, but the rest are all men. In fact, I think that’s typical all over the world - there are far more men than women in restaurant kitchens.

Interviewer: Why do you think that is?

Kevin: I think there are a lot of reasons. The most important reason is probably the unequal hours. Most women don’t want a job where you have to work until late at night. Then there’s the atmosphere. Women don’t like being shouted at, and there’s a lot of shouting in restaurant kitchens. It’s also usually incredibly hot and I think women don’t like that either.

Interviewer: And finally is there any English food that you really miss here?

Kevin: The thing I miss most living in Chile is English cheese. I really miss Stilton - which is a wonderful English blue cheese. It’s not as famous as some of the French cheeses like Roquefort but I think it should be. You should try it!

Interviewer: I will! Kevin, thank you very much.

Kevin: Thank you.

1.3

Interviewer: What was the most exciting match you refereed?

Juan Antonio: It’s difficult to choose one match as the most exciting. I remember some of the Real Madrid-Barcelona matches, for example the first one I ever refereed. The atmosphere was incredible in the stadium. But really it’s impossible to pick just one - there have been so many.

Interviewer: Who was the best player you ever saw?

Juan Antonio: During my career there have been many great players, like Johan Cruyff and Diego Maradona. It’s very difficult to say who was the best, but there’s one player who stands out for me, not just for being a great footballer but also for being a great human being and that was the Brazilian international Mauro Silva, who used to play here in Spain, for Deportivo La Coruna.

Interviewer: What was the worst experience you ever had as a referee?

Juan Antonio: I think that happened very early in my career. I was only 16 and I was refereeing a match in a town in Spain and the home team lost. After the match, I was attacked and injured by the players of the home team and by the spectators. After all these years I can still remember the mother, who had a little baby in her arms, who was trying to hit me. She was very angry with me, and that nearly dropped her baby. That was my worst moment, and it nearly made me stop being a referee.

Interviewer: Do you think that there’s more cheating in football than in the past?

Juan Antonio: Yes, I think so.

Interviewer: Why?

Juan Antonio: I think it’s because there’s so much money in football today that it has become much more important to win. Also football is much faster than it used to be so it’s more difficult for referees to detect cheating.

Interviewer: How do footballers cheat?

Juan Antonio: They cheat on free kicks, but for me the worst thing in football today is what we call ‘simulation’. Simulation is when players pretend to have been fouled when they haven’t. For example, sometimes a player falls over in the penalty area when, in fact, nobody has touched him and this can result in the referee giving a penalty when it wasn’t a penalty. In my opinion, when a player does this he’s cheating not only the referee, not only the players of the other team, but also the spectators, because spectators pay money to see a fair contest.

Interviewer: What’s the most difficult thing about being a referee?

Juan Antonio: Ah, the most difficult thing is to make the right decisions during a match. It’s difficult because you have to make decisions when everything’s happening so quickly - football today is very fast. Also important decisions often depend on the referee’s interpretation of the rules. Things aren’t black and white. And of course making decisions would be much easier if players didn’t cheat.

Interviewer: So, in your opinion, fair play doesn’t exist any more.

Juan Antonio: Not at all. I think fair play does exist - the players who cheat are still the exceptions.

Continuity: It’s eight o’clock and time for Breakfast Time.

Presenter: Good morning, everyone. Our guest this morning is the American writer Norah Levy. Norah’s here in Britain this week promoting her new book ‘We are family’, which is all about how our position in the family affects our personality. Welcome Norah.

Norah: Thank you.

Presenter: Norah, now is this really true, Norah? That our position in the family affects our personality?

Norah: Oh yes, the oldest children in a family are the first born. The oldest children get maximum attention from their parents and the result is that they’re usually quite self-confident people. They make good leaders. The famous Prime Minister, Winston Churchill, was a first born child. They’re often ambitious and they’re more likely to go to university than their brothers or sisters. They often get the top jobs too. Oldest children are also responsible people, because they often have to look after their younger brothers or sisters. The downside of this is that sometimes this means that when they're older they worry a lot about things. They can also be quite bossy, and even aggressive, especially when they don't get what they want.

Presenter What about the middle child?

Norah Well, middle children are usually independent and competitive.

Presenter Competitive?

Norah Yes, because they have to fight with their brothers and sisters for their parents' attention. And they're usually sociable, they like being with people, probably because they have always had other children to play with. However, on the negative side, middle children are often jealous of their brothers and sisters and they can be moody.

Presenter And youngest children?

Norah If you're the youngest in a family, you'll probably be very charming, very affectionate, and probably quite a relaxed person. This is because parents are usually more relaxed when they have their last child. On the other hand, younger children are often quite lazy. This is because they always have their older brothers and sisters to help them. And they can be quite manipulative - they use their charm to get what they want.

Presenter OK, that's all very interesting. Now, I'm an only child. People often have the idea that only children like me are spoilt. Is that true?

Norah Well, of course it's true! Only children are the only ones - they don't have to share with anyone - so they're often spoilt by their parents and their grandparents. As a result they can be quite selfish. They think of themselves more than of other people.

Presenter OK. Well, that sounds like a good description of me! Is there any good news?

Norah Yes, there is. On the positive side, only children are usually very organized and responsible, and they can be very imaginative too.

Presenter Well, thank you, Norah, and good luck with the book. And now it's time for the news headlines...

My name's Allie Gray and I'm from Cambridge in England. I met Mark about a year ago. He's from San Francisco. We both work for MTG, a music company. I was working in the London office and he came there on business. We got on really well and we really liked each other.

Anyway, at the end of his trip, he invited me to go to a conference in San Francisco. We had a great time again. And then something amazing happened. When I was in San Francisco, I was offered a job in our new office in Paris.

When I told Mark, he told me that he was going to work in the Paris office too.

There's just one little thing. His job is marketing director - but mine is managing director - so I'm going to be his boss. I've been in Paris for three weeks now, and I love it. Mark arrived from San Francisco yesterday. He's coming into the office this morning.

Allie What a lovely view! The river's beautiful, isn't it?

Mark Paris is so romantic. I can't believe we're here together at last.

Allie Yes, it's weird.

Mark Why don't we sit down?

Allie So did you like the office?

Mark Yes, it's great. How do you get on with everyone?

Allie OK. But we'll see. I've only been here three weeks. What did you think of them?

Mark I thought Jacques was very nice, and Nicole is OK. But I haven't really got to know them.

Norah What about Nicole?

Mark She was very friendly.

Allie You know we have to keep things secret.

Mark What things?

Norah You know, us. Our relationship. I don't want the people in the office to know we're together.

Mark No, of course not. But it isn't going to be easy.

Allie No, it isn't. How's the hotel?

Mark It's OK. I guess, but it's not like having my own place. I have to find an apartment.

Allie Don't worry. It won't take you long. What are you thinking?

Mark Do you really want to know? I was wondering what kind of a boss you'll be.

Allie Well, you'll find out tomorrow.

2.5

Good evening. I'm Peter Crane with the six o'clock news.

At least 17 people have been injured in the road accident that took place on the M1 near Leeds last night. The police said that the lorry which caused the accident was travelling at about 65 miles an hour, well over the 60 mile an hour speed limit for heavy goods vehicles.

2600 workers have walked out of the Peugeot car factory in Coventry in protest against the company's pay offer. The unions have asked for a rise of 8.5%. There'll be a meeting between their leaders and management later today.

The latest unemployment figures have been released for this year. They show an increase of 150,263 on last year's figures. This brings the total number of unemployed to approximately 1,490,000. The Employment Minister says this increase has been caused by the relocation of several factories from Britain to the Far East.

Estate agents are predicting that house prices will continue to rise this year, making it extremely difficult for first-time buyers to get onto the property ladder. It's estimated that house prices have increased by a third in the last five years. The average price of a three-bedroom house in south-east England is now £255,900.

And, the weather for the weekend...

Interviewer So, how long have you been living here?

Karen For about six months now.

Interviewer Why did you choose Beirut?

Karen Because, Mike - my husband - and I have always loved Arabic culture and the language, Mike's an English teacher and he got a job here in a language school.

Interviewer Why did you want to take a year off?

Karen Basically I wanted a break from teaching, I love teaching children but I needed a change. Also I've been drawing and painting since I was little but I've never really had the chance to study drawing. So this seemed like the perfect opportunity to have a change and learn to draw properly.

Interviewer Have you been doing anything since you arrived?

Karen Well, I found a fantastic art teacher, called Omayma, and I've been having classes with her since October. She's great and she speaks English, which is lucky because I don't know much Arabic yet. But I am learning the language as quickly as I can.

Interviewer Is Arabic a difficult language to learn?

Karen Incredibly difficult! Especially the pronunciation. You have to learn to make a lot of new sounds. Also it takes a long time to learn to read and write in Arabic.

Interviewer You also teach belly dancing here.

Karen That's right.

Interviewer How did that happen?

Karen Well. I've been teaching belly dancing for about six years, and I love it so I wanted to continue doing it here. A lot of Lebanese women don't know how to belly dance and they want to learn. I give classes here in my living room. We have a lot of fun!

Interviewer Are your students surprised that an English person is teaching them belly dancing?

Karen Yes, very, but they're also really happy to find that a foreigner loves Arabic music and understands something from their culture.

Interviewer What's the best thing about living in Lebanon so far?

Karen The people. The hospitality of the people here is absolutely amazing.

1 A Hello?

B Hi Sharon, it's me... Kylie.

A Oh, Hi Kylie.

B Hey, you sound awful - what's been happening?

A Oh, nothing. Well, OK... Kenny and I have been arguing.

B What about? What's he been doing this time?

A He's been sending text messages to his ex-girlfriend again.

B No!

A I knew this holiday was a mistake. I shouldn't have come.

2 Wife You are so red! How long have you been sunbathing? All morning?

Husband I haven't been sunbathing. I've been reading.

Wife Yes, but in the sun! Didn't you put any sunscreen on?

Husband No.

Wife You'd better go and put some after sun cream on now. You're going to feel terrible tonight...

3 Woman 1 You two look exhausted. What have you been doing?

Man We've been sightseeing in the town. We've been walking all afternoon.

Woman 2 Yes, my feet are killing me.

Woman 1 Well, come and sit down in the bar and have a nice cup of tea.

2.12

I set off at six. It was still dark when I put my suitcase in the car and drove off. I had a good journey through London because it was Saturday so there was no rush hour traffic.

Soon I was on the M20 motorway heading towards Folkestone on the south coast, I stopped at a service station for a cup of coffee and a sandwich. I didn't buy any petrol because it's much cheaper in France.

I arrived in Folkestone at 8.10. The problem with travelling by car from England to France is that Britain is an island. There are 35 kilometres of water between England and France. You can get across it by ferry, but there's a much better and quicker way - the Channel Tunnel!

The Channel Tunnel's only a train tunnel, not a road tunnel and so you have to put your car on a train. The journey takes an hour and a half, and drivers have to sit in their cars because there are no seats on the train for passengers. I arrived at the terminal and joined the queue of cars waiting for the next train. At 10.30 the train arrived in Calais and I drove my car off the train and onto the road – a French road. I had to remember to drive on the right, not on the left! The traffic in Calais was quite bad. Finally I got out of Calais and onto the motorway to the South of France. The speed limit on French motorways is 130 kilometres an hour and the road was clear so I could travel quickly. But first I stopped at a service station to fill up with petrol. Petrol’s cheaper in France than in Britain but on the other hand you have to pay to travel on French motorways. In Britain they’re free. It’s 960 kilometres from Calais to Avignon, and the journey on the motorway was boring. I listened to my favourite music to pass the time and I stopped again for lunch. At eight o’clock I finally arrived in Avignon. I found my hotel and I was looking forward to a lovely French meal.

TV host And this evening on Behind the wheel we talk to Brian Delacey, who’s an expert on road safety. Brian, you did some tests to find out how dangerous it is to do other things when you’re driving. According to your tests, what’s the most dangerous thing to do?

Expert Well, the first thing I have to say is that doing any other things when you’re driving is dangerous and can cause an accident. Because when you’re driving, you should concentrate 100% on controlling the car and anything else you do is a distraction. The tests we did in a simulator showed that the most difficult and most dangerous thing is to try and open a packet of crisps or to open a can of drink. The reason is that most people actually need two hands to open a packet of crisps or a can of drink so they take both hands off the wheel for a second or two. And, of course, that’s the most dangerous thing you can possibly do. In fact, one of the drivers in the simulator actually crashed when he did this.

TV host And which is the next most dangerous?

Expert The next most dangerous thing is to select a specific CD from the passenger seat. This is extremely dangerous too because to do this you have to take your eyes off the road for one or two seconds.

TV host And number three?

Expert Number three was making a phone call on a mobile. What we found in the tests was that drivers drove more slowly when they did this, but that their control of the car got worse.

TV host Yes, I can believe that. And number four?

Expert Number four was listening to our favourite music. In the tests most drivers drove more quickly and less safely when they were listening to music they already knew. If the music was fast and heavy, some drivers even drove more aggressively.

TV host So no heavy metal when you’re driving.

Expert Absolutely not.

TV host And in fifth place?

Expert In fifth place was talking to other passengers. The problem when we talk to other people in the car is that we pay too much attention to what we’re saying or what we’re hearing and not enough attention to what’s happening on the road.

TV host So the least dangerous is listening to music you don’t know.

Expert That’s right. The least dangerous of all these activities is listening to unfamiliar music on the radio or on a CD player. It seems that if we don’t know the music then we’re less distracted by it. In this part of the tests, all drivers drove safely and well.

Nicole Have you started looking for an apartment? Mark No, I haven’t had time yet.

Ben Anyway, it’s best to get to know Paris first.

Nicole Yeah – it’s a big city.

Nicole Merci.

Ben Merci.

Nicole Merci beaucoup.

Nicole Very good, Mark!

Mark Thanks. That’s nearly all the French I know!

Ben Hi, Beatrix. . . . Yeah … just a minute. Sorry. Nicole How do you like the office?

Mark Oh, it’s great.

Nicole And the people?

Mark Really friendly! I like Ben a lot. He’s amazing with computers. And Jacques’s a really nice guy! Nicole Oh, Jacques, he’s very charming. Everybody likes him. And he has a lovely wife. She used to be a pop star when she was young. Have you heard of Isabelle?

Mark No, I’m sorry, I haven’t.

Nicole She’s very pretty. Allie is very attractive, too.

Mark Allie! Yeah, I guess.

Nicole Although her clothes are very English. And she’s very formal. You know, today, I asked if I could have a day off, and she wanted me to send her an email!

Mark Well, the English have their funny ways.

Nicole Oh yeah. Oh, hello, Allie. Allie Hi.

Mark Allie! Hi, let me get you a drink. Allie Thanks. I’ll have a Diet Coke.

I’m a shop assistant and I work in a clothes shop and what really makes me angry is when I’m serving somebody and suddenly their mobile rings and they answer the phone and start having a conversation. It’s really annoying. I think that if you’re in a shop and talking to a shop assistant, then you shouldn’t answer the phone.

What most annoys me is people who use their phones on a plane. I mean everybody knows that you have to switch off your mobile on a plane and that you mustn’t use it until you get off the plane. But some people switch on their phones the moment the plane lands and they start making calls. Why can’t they wait another fifteen minutes?

I hate it when people talk very loudly on their mobile phone in a public place. The other day I was in the waiting room at the doctor’s and there was a man there whose mobile rang about every two minutes and we all had to listen to him talking loudly to his wife, then to his boss, then to a garage mechanic … I think that if you’re in a public place and someone calls you, you should really quietly go somewhere else. And you don’t have to shout – the other person can hear you perfectly well.

What really annoys me are people who use their phones a lot when they’re with other people – like when you’re out having a drink or a meal with someone and they spend the whole time talking on their mobiles or texting other people to arrange what they’re doing the next day. I think it’s really rude.

László Well, I think sometimes yes. English people can be so polite that you don’t really understand them. For example, I went to London with some other teachers from Hungary to do a training course for teachers of English. It was a special course for foreign teachers. During the course the tutors, the people who were teaching us, talked to us a lot about our progress – and we thought we were all doing really well. So we were very surprised when some of us didn’t fail the course! What had happened was that the English tutors were so polite when they gave their opinion about our teaching that we didn’t realize we were doing things badly. I think that’s typically English. I think sometimes they need to say what they think, to be more direct.

Paula I think English people are so polite that it makes us Latin people think that they’re cold. I mean we’re very noisy and extrovert and so when the English people and polite we think that they don’t like us, that they’re being unfriendly. So maybe yes, they can be too polite. I think they need to relax more.

Melik I think the English are very polite, but they don’t think they’re too polite – I mean I don’t think it’s a bad thing, I think it’s a good thing. In my job, I have a lot of English people and I think they’re much more polite than we are, both in the way they talk and also in the way they respect other people’s opinions. And their manners in general are much better. OK, this isn’t true about all English people. The football hooligans and some of the tourists that come here to Turkey and drink too much – they’re not polite – but the majority are and I like it.

Renata Well, I went to London a few years ago and one day, surprise, surprise, it was raining and I was walking along the street and everybody had an umbrella and everybody had an umbrella and every time someone went past me they hit me with their umbrella and then said, ‘Oh sorry,’ or ‘I’m terribly sorry,’ or ‘I’m terribly sorry’. And after the tenth time this happened, I just said to the person who hit me, ‘Please stop saying sorry and just be more careful!’ So in answer to your question, I don’t think English people are too polite. They say ‘sorry’ and ‘thank you’ a lot, but it doesn’t really mean anything.

Policeman OK, ladies, now can you describe the man you saw in the bank?

Woman I Well, he was, er, sort of medium height, you know, not short – but not tall either. And quite skinny, you know thin.

Woman 2 Yes. And he had a beard and a little moustache…

Woman 1 No, he didn’t. He had a moustache but not a beard. It’s just that I think he hadn’t shaved.

Woman 2 No, it was a beard, I’m sure.

Woman 1 And anyway, Doris, you weren’t wearing your glasses so you can’t have seen him very well.

Woman 2 I could see perfectly well.

Policeman Ladies, ladies, please. So no moustache then?

Woman 1 No, he had a moustache but he didn’t have a beard.

Policeman And what about his hair?

Woman 2 Dark.
Rafael

Interviewer

Rafael Yes. My mother was Spanish and my father's English.

Interviewer Is Rafael your real name then or your stage name?

Rafael It's my real name: my mother was from Cordoba in Spain and Rafael's the patron saint of Cordoba. But it's also my stage name.

Interviewer What nationality are you?

Rafael I'm British and Spanish. I was born in Spain and I was brought up there. I've spent a lot of time in Britain too. I've been living in Oxford for the last ten years.

Interviewer Oh, nice. Are you bilingual?

Rafael Yes, I am.

Interviewer And, it's a strange question, do you feel more Spanish than British or vice versa?

Rafael Well, I think I feel more Spanish in most respects, especially as a big part of my life revolves around Spanish culture. But I do like individuality, eccentricity, and tea. I must feel a little British too, I suppose!

Interviewer Do you think you look more Spanish than English?

Rafael Well, I think I look Spanish, but when I travel, people always think I'm from their country and people have stopped me in the street, for example in Cairo and in Rome, to ask me for help, so I must have an international face... maybe I should be a spy!

Interviewer When did you start learning to play the guitar?

Rafael I started when I was nine when my family lived in Madrid. A teacher used to come to our flat and give me lessons.

Interviewer I see, so how long have you been working professionally as a flamenco guitarist?

Rafael I started when I was 17. I mean that's when I started to get paid for my first concerts. I'm now 39, so that's 22 years.

Interviewer As a flamenco guitarist living in Britain, is it easy to make a living?

Rafael I think life as a musician is never easy. But I think it's easier here than in Spain, because there are fewer flamenco guitarists here.

Interviewer And where's flamenco popular, apart from in Spain?

Rafael Well, the biggest markets for flamenco outside Spain are really the USA, Germany, and Japan, but I've found that it's popular all over the world. It has a strong identity that people relate to in every corner of the planet.

Interviewer Now, you don't look like the stereotype of a flamenco guitarist. People imagine flamenco guitarists as having long dark hair...

Rafael That's true. I used to have very long hair, but I decided to cut my hair short.

Interviewer Are people in Britain surprised when they find out that you're a flamenco guitarist?

Rafael No, not really. That's one of the things I like about Britain: no one judges you on your appearance.

Interviewer And what about in Spain?

Rafael Well, actually, in Spain people find it much harder to believe that I'm a flamenco guitarist. I think Spanish people believe in stereotypes more than in Britain. And they judge you more on your appearance. But as soon as people hear me playing the guitar, then they know that I'm the real thing.

Interviewer Could you play something for us?

Rafael Of course.

Interviewer Hello and welcome to this week's edition of All about you. Today's programme's about taking up new activities, and how to succeed at them. With us is psychologist Dr Maggie Prior. Good afternoon.

Psychologist Good afternoon.

Interviewer Dr Prior, what tips can you give our listeners who are thinking of learning to do something new?

Psychologist Well, first of all I would say choose wisely. On the one hand, don't choose something completely unrealistic. For example, don't decide to take up sailing if you can't swim, or parachute jumping if you're afraid of heights. But, on the other hand, don't generalize and think that just because you aren't very good at one sport, you won't be able to do any sports at all. I mean, just because you were bad at gymnastics at school, doesn't mean that you might not love playing tennis.

Interviewer So think positive?

Psychologist Definitely. And never think you'll be bad at something before you've even tried it.

Interviewer OK, so, let's imagine I've started to learn to play tennis and I'm finding it very hard work.

Psychologist Well, first don't give up too quickly, carry on for at least a few months. It often takes time to begin to enjoy learning something new. Another thing that can help, if you're having problems learning something, is to give it a break and then try again, perhaps a month or two later.

Interviewer But what if I carry on and I find I really don't have a talent for tennis?

Psychologist I think the important thing is not to be too ambitious. I mean if you've never done much sport and you decide to learn to play tennis, don't expect to become the next Wimbledon champion. Just aim to enjoy what you're doing, not to be the best in the world at it.

Interviewer But if, even after all this, I still feel I'm not getting anywhere?

Psychologist Sometimes you do have to accept it and say: 'OK, this really isn't my thing,' and you need to give it up. But why not try something else?

There are lots of other things you can learn to do. But remember that if you take up an activity that you're really interested in, even if you aren't very good at it, you'll make new friends, because you'll be meeting other people who have similar interests to you.

Interviewer So it might be good for my love life.

Psychologist Exactly.

Interviewer Dr Maggie Prior, thank you very much.

Landlady This is the apartment. Je vous laisse visiter. Je scris en bas.

Mark Merci, madame. Sorry, Nicole. What did she say?

Nicole She said that we can have a look at the flat. She's going to wait downstairs.

Mark Thanks. So, what do you think?

Nicole Well, it's a long way from the station. And it's on the fourth floor. It's a pity there isn't a lift.

Mark Who needs one? The stairs are good exercise. Look, there's a great view from here.

Nicole It's also very noisy.

Mark Sure, but it has character. It's just how I imagined an apartment in Paris. Nicole Everything's old, including the heating. It will be very cold in the winter.

Mark Oh, hi.

Allie Well, what's it like?

Mark Nice – really Parisan. Allie Are you going to take it?

Mark I think so, yeah.

Allie I can't wait to see it!

Mark Yeah...

Allie Have you OK? Are you on your own?

Mark No, I'm with the woman who owns the apartment. I'll call you back.

Allie OK, speak later. Love you.

Mark Love you too, bye. Sorry about that. That was Nicole Calling from America?

Mark You know, she's just taking an interest. Nicole Taking an interest. That's nice.

Journalist What subjects did you take?

Charlotte Physics, chemistry, maths, and biology.

Journalist Do you think you've passed?

Charlotte I'm sure I've passed, but I'm worried about what grades I'll get.

Journalist Why?

Charlotte Because I want to study medicine at university – at Cambridge, and they won't give me a place unless I get three As and a B.

Journalist Do you think you'll get them?

Charlotte I don't know. I think I did OK, but I'm a bit worried about maths.

Journalist When will you get your results?

Charlotte Tomorrow, by post. I'm really nervous – and not my parents.

As soon as the post comes, I'll take the letter upstairs and open it.

Journalist And how will you celebrate if you pass?

Charlotte I don't want to plan any celebrations, until I get the results.

Journalist And what will you do if you don't get the grades you need?

Charlotte I don't want to think about it. If I don't get into Cambridge, my parents will kill me. No, I'm joking. I suppose I'll do another year at school and take the exams again.

Journalist Well, good luck!

Charlotte Thanks.

Journalist What exam did you take?

Viktor FCE. First Certificate in English.

Journalist Do you think you've passed?

Viktor I think so. I'm quite optimistic. I think I did the exam quite well.

Journalist When will you get your result?

Viktor Tomorrow morning. I study at a language school and when I go to class tomorrow the grades will be on the notice board. My name will be the first on the list because my surname begins with A.

Journalist How will you celebrate if you pass?

Viktor I'll go and have a drink with the other people in my class. Well, with the people who have passed.

Journalist And what will you do if you pass? Will you carry on studying English?

Viktor Yes, I'd like to take the CAE exam next year.

Journalist And if you don't pass?

Viktor I'll take the exam again in June.

Journalist Charlotte – I can see from your face that the results, or, weren't exactly what you wanted – am I right?

Presenter: Hello and welcome to our review of the week's TV. With me today is the television critic Michael Stott. That did you think was the best programme of the week?

Michael: Well, I've chosen the last programme from the Channel 4 series That'll Teach 'Em. I must say I found the whole series absolutely fascinating. For those of you who didn't see it, what the programme did was to take a group of 16-year-old children and send them as an experiment - in a boarding school for one month. But it wasn't a modern boarding school, it was a 1950s boarding school. They recreated the same conditions as in the 1950s - the same food, the same discipline, the same exams.

The idea was to compare education today with education in the 1950s.

Presenter: I bet it was a shock to today's schoolchildren.

Michael: Well, it was, of course. It wasn't just the classes - it was the whole atmosphere - I mean they had to wear the uniform from the 1950s - horrible uncomfortable clothes - they hated them and they weren't allowed to leave the school once for the whole month, or watch TV, or use mobiles. And they had to have cold showers every morning, and go for cross-country runs!

Presenter: What was the worst thing for them?

Michael: The food, definitely! Most of them hated it. They said it was cold and tasteless. And the girls didn't like the cold showers much either...

Presenter: What about the classes?

Michael: Well, of course the biggest difference for the kids was the discipline. It was silence all the time during the lessons - only the teacher spoke. And anyone who misbehaved had to go to the headmaster and was either caned - hit on the hand - or had to stay behind after class and do extra work. And of course they couldn't use computers or calculators, but curiously the kids didn't really mind that, and in fact most of them found the lessons interesting - some of them said they were more interesting than their normal lessons. They had to work very hard though.

Presenter: So what happened in the end? Did they pass the 1950s exams?

Michael: No. Most of them failed - although they were all really bright children. There was only one child who actually passed all the subjects.

Presenter: So, do you think that means exams really used to be harder in the 1950s?

Michael: No, I don't think so. I think it's called exams in the 1950s were very different. The children in the programme will probably do very well in their own exams. On the other hand, 1950s children would probably find today's exams very difficult.
Allie Well, that was a disastrous morning. The boat trip made her feel sick and she wouldn't go up the Eiffel Tower. 'I can't stand heights.'
Mark It's a pity we didn't just take her shopping. Allie She's so spoilt.
Mark Oh, come on, she's just a kid really.
Allie So, what are we going to do about lunch? Shall we leave now?
Mark No, hang on. I have an idea. Let me talk to the waiter.

5.3

Voice-over 2 The facial
Stephan Oh that was so boring. It went on forever.
Allie I loved it.
Stephan Well, I must admit my face feels different - much smoother. But I'm not sure I really want a smooth face; and in two hours and she used about 12 different creams and things. It normally only takes me a minute to wash my face - and I just use soap and water - the therapist said I ought to buy five different

5.4

Voice-over 3 The foot treatment
Stephan Wow!
Allie Don't tell me you liked it!
Stephan It was wonderful!
Allie I must say, your feet look... well, better. Clean anyway.
Stephan Well, I've never liked my feet much to be honest, but now they look great. That was definitely worth the time and money. Nine out of ten.
Allie Yes, it was great. A real luxury. And I love the colour they painted my nails. I agree - nine out of ten. You see...

5.5

Voice-over Week one
Jessica When I got to the studio on the first day, I was really nervous. I met my teachers, Adam and Sally, and they were very nice to me but I could see that they thought it was going to be impossible to teach me to be a reporter in just a month.
Adam The problem with Jessica at the beginning was that she was too shy and too nice. Political reporters need to be hard - almost aggressive sometimes - and I've never met anyone less aggressive than Jessica. And also she knew nothing about politics - she knew who the Prime Minister was but not much else.
Jessica I spent the first week watching lots of political interviews on TV, and Adam and Sally taught me how to speak more clearly and more confidently. In the evening: they made me read the political sections of all the newspapers. It was very boring. At the end of the week I was exhausted.

Voice-over Week two
Jessica Adam and Sally said I had to change my image for TV, so I had my hair cut and coloured, and I got new, smarter clothes. I must say I liked my new look.
I spent the week learning how to interview someone in front of a camera.
Adam Then came Jessica's first big challenge. The Prime Minister was arriving home after a visit to the USA. She had to wait outside number 10 Downing Street with the other journalists and try to ask him a question.
Jessica It was a disaster. I was so nervous I was shaking. There were a lot of other journalists pushing and shouting. They didn't let me get near the Prime Minister. I tried to ask my question, but he didn't hear me. I felt really stupid.

Voice-over Week three.
Adam Jessica was finally making some progress. She was more relaxed. This week she had to interview a politician from the Conservative party in the studio.
Jessica In the beginning it was fine. But then I made a stupid mistake.
Jessica So could you tell us what the Labour party are going to do about... sorry, I meant the Conservative party.
I said the 'Labour party' instead of the 'Conservative party'. And after that I was really nervous again.
Adam We all make mistakes sometimes. Jessica just has to learn to carry on, and not lose her confidence.

5.8

Voice-over Week four.
Jessica I spent the last week preparing for the test. It was going to be a live interview with the Minister of Education. There would be three professional reporters and me, all asking him questions. I'd done lots of research so although I was nervous, I felt well prepared.
Jessica Minister, many people think that the real reason why there aren't enough teachers is because their salaries are too low. Are you proposing to increase teachers' salaries?
Minister Well, let's not forget that salaries are much higher today than they were under the previous government.
Jessica Yes, but you haven't answered my question. Are you going to increase them?
Minister Well, we're planning to spend a lot more money on education in the next two years.
Jessica Is that a yes or a no?
Minister There are no immediate plans to increase teachers' salaries.
Jessica So it's a no then. Thank you Minister.
Jessica When it was all over came the worst part. I had to wait while the judges decided which of us they thought wasn't a professional reporter.
Adam The judges gave their verdict - and incredibly none of the three realized that Jessica wasn't a professional! She did very very well.
Who knows, maybe one day soon you'll be seeing her on TV... and this time she'll be a real reporter, not pretending!
Jessica It was a great experience and I was pleased how I did, but actually I wouldn't like to change jobs. I'm much happier working in the library.

5.9

Allie It's great to be on our own again.
Mark Yeah.
Allie Is this the first time you've been to the Louvre?
Mark Uh huh.
Allie: How's the weather? We're going to have a picnic.

Mark: It's drizzling, but I think we'll have a good time. The rain will add a romantic atmosphere.

Allie: I think you're right. At least we won't have to worry about wildfires.

Mark: Yes, and I think the rain will make the food taste better.

Allie: Let's get started. I think I'll make some sandwiches and some fresh fruit.

Mark: That sounds delicious. I'm really looking forward to it.

Allie: And I think I'll make some oatmeal raisin cookies.

Mark: Oatmeal raisin cookies? I love those. I think I'll make some coffee.

Allie: And I think I'll make some lemonade.

Mark: That sounds perfect. I think we have all we need.

Allie: Let's get started. I think it will be a great day.

Mark: I think you're right. I think we will have a great time.

Allie: I think you are right. I think we will have a great time.

Mark: I think you are right. I think we will have a great time.

Allie: I think you are right. I think we will have a great time.

Mark: I think you are right. I think we will have a great time.

Narrator The cabin crew put out a desperate call to the passengers: 'If there's a doctor on the plane, could you please press your call bell?' The cabin crew were hoping to hear this, but they didn't. They heard this. Incredibly, there were fifteen doctors on the plane, and all of them were cardiologists. They were from different countries and they were travelling to Florida for a medical conference. Four of the doctors rushed to give emergency treatment to Mrs Fletcher. At one point, they thought she had died, but finally they managed to save her life. The plane made an emergency landing in North Carolina and Mrs Fletcher was taken to hospital. After being in hospital for four days, she was able to go to her daughter's wedding. Mrs Fletcher was very lucky. If those doctors hadn't been on the plane, I would have died. I can't thank them enough.

Narrator But now that she's back in England, Mrs Fletcher has been less lucky with British hospitals. Mrs Fletcher had fifteen heart specialists on that plane, but I'll have to wait three months until I can see one in this country!

Interviewer Good morning and thank you for coming, Mr Morton -- or should it be Inspector Morton -- you were a detective with Scotland Yard, weren't you?

Ken Yes, that's right. For twenty-five years. I retired last year.

Interviewer People today are still fascinated by the identity of Jack the Ripper, more than a hundred years after the crimes were committed. It's incredible, isn't it?

Ken Well, it's not really that surprising. People are always interested in unsolved murders -- and Jack the Ripper has become a sort of cult horror figure. Interviewer Who are the main suspects?

Ken Well, there are a lot of them. But probably the best known are Prince Albert, Queen Victoria's grandson, the artist Walter Sickert, and a Liverpool cotton merchant called James Maybrick.

Interviewer Patricia Cornwall in her book 'Jack the Ripper -- case closed?' says that she has identified the murderer. Who does she think it was?

Ken Well, she's convinced that Jack the Ripper was Walter Sickert, the painter.

7.7
Interviewer What evidence did she discover? Ken Well, she mainly used DNA analysis. She actually bought a painting by Sickert at great expense and she cut it up to get the DNA from it -- people in the art world were furious.

Interviewer I can imagine. Ken And then she compared the DNA from the painting with DNA taken from the letters that Jack the Ripper sent to the police. Patricia Cornwall says that she's 99% certain that Walter Sickert was Jack the Ripper.

Interviewer But you don't think she's right, do you? Ken No, I don't. I don't think her scientific evidence is completely reliable and there's a lot of evidence which says that Sickert was in France not London when some of the women were killed.

Interviewer There's been another recent theory, hasn't there? About James Maybrick? Do you think he was the murderer?

Ken Well, somebody found a diary which is supposed to be his, where he admits to being Jack the Ripper. But nobody has been able to prove that the diary is genuine and, personally, I don't think he was the murderer.

Interviewer And Prince Albert, the Queen's grandson?

Ken This for me is the most ridiculous theory. I can't seriously believe that a member of the royal family could be a serial murderer. In any case, Prince Albert was in Scotland when at least two of the murders were committed.

Interviewer So, who do you think the murderer was?

Ken I can't tell you because I don't know.

Interviewer So you don't think we'll ever solve the mystery?

Ken No, I wouldn't say that. I think one day the mystery will be solved. Some new evidence will appear and we'll be able to say that the case of Jack the Ripper is finally closed. But at the moment it's still a mystery, and people like a good mystery.

Claire Well, it wouldn't be electric light because I love candles. And I could live without a washing machine for a week -- I often do when I'm on holiday. I think I would miss a fridge though -- I'd hate not to have cold drinks, and it would mean having to go shopping every day for food or it would go off. So a fridge would be one thing, and then probably my laptop. It has a battery, but I could only use it for three hours or so without charging it. So I wouldn't be able to do much work.

Andy Er well, it depends. I'd quite miss the TV, but I suppose I could live without it for a week if I had to. And, er, what else -- oh no, my mobile. I wouldn't be able to charge it. I couldn't live without my mobile. I mean that's how I keep in touch with all my friends. And my MP3 player. I need my music. Yes, definitely those two.

Julia I think for me it would have to be first and foremost the dishwasher. Because with a family and so much washing up, I would just be over the sink for ever. It would be a nightmare for me to have no dishwasher and I've got so used to it. So that would be the first thing. And the second thing, probably again because of having a family, a young family, would be an iron, because there's so much ironing, and if I had to go without that, everyone would look terrible. Nobody would look smart. So those would be my two things.

Tyler Well, I suppose the first thing I'd miss most would be my mobile phone, because I couldn't charge it up, so I couldn't use it, and I'd get very upset about that. There are some people's numbers that are only stored on the phone. I haven't got them written down, and I wouldn't be able to get in touch with those people. So mobile phone. And the other thing I'd miss would be, electricity, em if the electricity had gone, would be the lights, at this time of year, especially when the days are short, the mornings are dark, early afternoon, late afternoon's dark too. I'd miss lights as well. So mobile phone and lights.
1A present simple and continuous, action and non-action verbs present simple: I live, he works, etc.

They work in a bank.
Where do you live?
He doesn't wear glasses.
She usually has cereal for breakfast.
I'm never late for work.

- Use the present simple for things that are always true or happen regularly.
- Remember the spelling rules, e.g., lives, studies, watches.
- Use ASI (auxiliary, subject, infinitive) or QUASI (question word, auxiliary, subject, infinitive) to help you with word order in questions.
- Put adverbs of frequency, e.g., usually, before the main verb and after *be.

present continuous: be + verb + -ing

A Who are you waiting for?
B I'm waiting for a friend.
A What are you doing after class?
B I'm going to the café.

- Use the present continuous (not present simple) for actions in progress at the time of speaking or for future arrangements.
- Remember the spelling rules, e.g., living, studying, getting.

action and non-action verbs

A What are you cooking tonight?
B I'm making pasta.
A Great! I really like pasta.

- Verbs which describe actions, e.g., make, cook, can be used in the present simple or continuous.
- Verbs which describe states or feelings (not actions), e.g., like, want, be, are not normally used in the present continuous.
- Common non-action verbs are agree, be, believe, belong, depend, forget, hate, hear, know, lie, love, matter, mean, need, prefer, realize, recognize, seem, suppose.

A few verbs have an action and a non-action meaning. The most common is have.

* I have a big flat. = possession (non-action)
* I can't talk now. I'm having lunch. = an activity (action)

1B past tenses

past simple: worked, stopped, went, had, etc.

They got married last year.
What time did you wake up this morning?

- Use the past simple for finished past actions.

past continuous: was / were + verb + -ing

A What were you doing at six o'clock last night?
B I was watching TV. It was a cold night and it was raining.

- Use the past continuous to describe an action in progress at a specific time in the past.

past perfect: had + past participle

When they turned on the TV, the match had finished.
I felt nervous because I hadn't flown before.

- Use the past perfect when you are talking about the past and you want to talk about an earlier past action.

using narrative tenses together

When John arrived, they had dinner. (first John arrived, then they had dinner)
When John arrived, they were having dinner. (when John arrived they were in the middle of dinner)
When John arrived, they had had dinner. (they had dinner before John arrived).

- Remember Irregular verbs p.156.

1C future forms

be going to + infinitive

future plans and intentions

My sister's going to adopt a child.
Are you going to buy a new car?
I'm not going to go to New York next week.
predictions

I think they're going to win. (They're playing very well.)
It's going to rain. (The sky is very dark.)

- Use going to NOT will / won't when you have already decided to do something.
- With the verb go you can leave out the infinitive.

I'm not going (to go) to New York.

present continuous: be + verb + -ing

future arrangements

We're getting married in October.
They're meeting at 10.00.
She's leaving on Friday.

- You can usually use present continuous or going to for future plans / arrangements.
  - going to shows that you have made a decision.

   B She's pregnant. She _________ a baby in August. (have) 2A present perfect and past simple present perfect simple: have / has + past participle (worked, seen, etc.)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>past experiences</th>
<th>recent past actions</th>
<th>with yet and already (for emphasis)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>I've been to London, but I haven't been to Oxford. She's never met his ex-wife. Have you ever lost your credit card?</td>
<td>I've cut my finger! He's just arrived at the airport.</td>
<td>I've already done my homework. Can I watch TV? Have you finished yet? My brother hasn't found a new job yet.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- We often use ever and never when we ask or talk about past experiences. They go before the main verb.
- just and already go before the main verb in sentences, yet goes at the end of the phrase in sentences and 2.
- *For irregular past participles see Irregular verbs p.156.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>I've been to Madrid twice. (= in my life up to now)</th>
<th>How long have you been married to Alan? (= you are married to Alan now)</th>
<th>I went there in 1998 and 2002. (= on two specific occasions)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>How long have you been married to Alan? (= you are married to Alan now)</td>
<td>I've (just) bought a new computer. (= I don't say exactly when)</td>
<td>How long were you married to Jake? (= you are not married to Jake now)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- Use the present perfect when there is a connection between the past and the present.

2B present perfect continuous present perfect continuous for unfinished actions

How long have you been learning English?
He's been working here since April.
They've been going out together for three years.

- have / has been + verb + ing
- Use the present perfect continuous with for and since with action verbs (e.g. learn, go, etc.).

With non-action verbs (e.g. know, be, etc.) use the present perfect simple NOT the present perfect continuous with for and since.

I've known her for ages. NOT I've been knowing her for ages.
With live and work you can use the present perfect simple or continuous with for and since.
I've been living here for six months. I've lived here for six months.

2C comparatives and superlatives

comparing two things (or actions)

| My sister is a bit taller than me. London is more expensive than Edinburgh. This test is less difficult than the last one. Olive oil is better for you than butter. You drive more slowly than me. Liverpool played worse today than last week. Flying isn't as comfortable as going by train. He doesn't smoke as much as she does. Her new car looks the same as the old one. |

- Regular comparative adjectives / adverbs: hard—harder, big—bigger, easy—easier, modern—more modern, difficult—more difficult, carefully—more carefully
- Irregular comparative adjectives / adverbs: good / well—better, bad / badly—worse, far—further
- After than or as we can use an object pronoun me, him, her, etc. or a subject pronoun (I, he, she) + auxiliary verb, e.g. She's taller than me OR She's taller than I am but NOT She's taller than I.

superlatives

He's the tallest player in the team. Oslo is the most expensive capital city in Europe. This book is the least difficult to understand. She's the best student in the class. Who drives the most carefully in your family? That's the worst they've ever played.

- Form superlatives like comparatives but use -est instead of -er and most / least instead of more / less.
- You normally use the before superlatives, but you can also use possessive adjectives, e.g. my best friend, their most famous song.

3A  must, have to, should (obligation)

obligation / necessity: have to / must (+ infinitive)

You have to wear a seatbelt in a car.
Do you have to work on Saturdays?
I had to wear a uniform at my primary school.
I'll have to get up early tomorrow. My interview is at 9.00.
I must remember to phone Emily tonight – it's her birthday.
You must be on time for class tomorrow – there's a test.

- Must and have to have a very similar meaning.
  - Must is more common for general, external obligations, for example rules and laws.
  - Must is more common for specific (i.e. on one occasion) or personal obligations.
  - Have to is a normal verb and it exists in all tenses.
  - Must is a modal verb. The only forms are must and mustn't.
  - You can also use have to or must for strong recommendations, e.g. You have to / must see that film – it's fantastic.

advice or opinion: should / shouldn't (+ infinitive)

You should take warm clothes with you to Dublin.
It might be cold at night.
I think the government should do something about unemployment.

- Should is not as strong as must / have to. We use it to say if we think something is the right or wrong thing to do.
- Should is a modal verb. The only forms are should and shouldn't.
- You can also use ought to and ought not to instead of should / shouldn't.
- You should take an umbrella with you. You ought to take an umbrella with you.

3B  must, may, might, can't (deduction)

when you are sure something is true: must

They must be out. There aren't any lights on.
She must have a lot of money. She drives a Porsche.

when you think something is possibly true: may / might

His phone's switched off. He might be on the plane now.
She might not like that skirt. It's not her style.
She's not at home. She may be working.
He hasn't written. He may not have my address.

3C  can, could, be able to (ability and possibility) can / could

I can speak Spanish very well.
She could play the violin when she was three.
She can't come tonight. She's ill.
They couldn't wait because they were in a hurry.
Could you open that door, please?

- Can is a modal verb. It only has a present, past, and conditional form (but can also be used with a future meaning).
- For other tenses and forms use be able to.

be able to + infinitive

I am able to accept your invitation.
They weren't able to come.
I'll be able to practice my English in London.
She has been able to speak French since she was a child.
I'd like to be able to ski.
I'd love being able to sleep late at weekends.

- You can use be able to in the present, past, future, present perfect, and as a gerund or infinitive.
- be able to in the present and past is more formal than can / could.
3A

a Circle the correct form.

8 They _____ find a flat yet. They're still looking.
4A first conditional and future time clauses + when, until, etc.

first conditional sentences: if (or unless) + present simple, will / won't + infinitive

If you don't do more work, you'll fail the exam. He'll be late for work if he doesn't hurry up. She won't get into university unless she gets good grades.

- Use the present tense (NOT the future) after if in first conditional sentences.
- unless = if ... not
  I won't go unless she invites me. = I won't go if she doesn't invite me.
- You can also use an imperative instead of the will clause, e.g. Come and see us next week if you have time.

future time clauses

As soon as you get your exam results, call me. We'll have dinner when your father gets home. I won't go to bed until you come home. I'll have lunch before I leave.

- Use the present simple (NOT the future) after when, as soon as, until, before, and after to talk about the future.
- as soon as = at the moment when, e.g. I'll call you as soon as I arrive.

4B second conditional second conditional sentences: if + past simple, would / wouldn't + infinitive

If I had more money, I'd buy a bigger house. If he spoke English, he could get a job in a hotel.
I would get on better with my parents if I didn't live with them. I wouldn't do that job unless they paid me a really good salary.
If I were you, I'd buy a new computer.

- Use the second conditional to talk about a hypothetical / imaginary situation in the present or future and its consequence. Compare:
  I don't have much money, so I can't buy a bigger house (real situation).
  If I had more money, I'd buy a bigger house (hypothetical / imaginary situation).
- Use second conditionals beginning If I were you, I'd... to give advice. Here you can't use If I was you.

would / wouldn't + infinitive

My ideal holiday would be a week in the Bahamas. I'd never buy a car as big as yours.

- You can also use would / wouldn't + infinitive (without an if clause) when you talk about imaginary situations.
- The contraction of would is 'd.

⚠️ Remember the difference between first and second conditionals.
If I have time, I'll help you. = a possible situation. I may have time.
If I had time, I'd help you. = an imaginary / hypothetical situation. I don't / won't have time.

4C usually and used to present habits and states

I usually get up at 8.00 on school days. I don't usually go out during the week. Houses in the suburbs usually have gardens.
Do you usually walk to work?

past habits and states

We used to be close friends but we don't see each other any more. I used to go out with that girl when I was at school.
Did you use to wear glasses? She didn't use to have fair hair. She had dark hair before.

- For present habits use usually or normally + present simple.
- For past habits use used to / didn't use to + infinitive. Used to does not exist in the present tense.
- We use used to for things that were true over a period of time in the past. It usually refers to something which is not true now.
  I used to smoke. = I smoked for a period time in the past but now I don't.
- Used to / didn't use to can be used with action verbs (e.g. wear, go out) and non-action verbs (e.g. be, have).
- We often use not...any more / any longer (= not now) with the present simple to contrast with used to.
  I used to go to the gym but I don't any more / any longer.

5C gerunds and infinitives

Use the gerund (verb + -ing)
1. after prepositions and phrasal verbs.
   - I’m very good at remembering names.
   - She’s given up smoking.
   - Eating out is quite cheap here.
   - I don’t mind getting up early.

2. as the subject of a sentence.
   - Common verbs which take the gerund include: enjoy, hate, finish, like, love, mind, practise, spend, stop, suggest and phrasal verbs, e.g. give up, go on, etc.

3. after some verbs, e.g. hate, spend, don’t mind.

Use the infinitive (+ to)
1. after adjectives.
   - My flat is easy to find.
   - He’s saving money to buy a new car.
   - She’s never learnt to drive.
   - Try not to make a noise.

2. to express a reason or purpose.

3. after some verbs, e.g. want, need, learn.

Common verbs which take the infinitive (with to) include: (can’t) afford, agree, decide, expect, forget, help, hope, learn, need, offer, plan, pretend, promise, refuse, remember, seem, try, want, would like

Use the infinitive (without to)

7A third conditional third conditional sentences: if + had + past participle, would + have + past participle.

- Use third conditional sentences to talk about a hypothetical / imaginary situation in the past (which didn't happen) and its consequence. Compare:
  - Yesterday I got up late and missed my train (= the real situation).
  - If I hadn't got up late yesterday, I wouldn't have missed my train (= the hypothetical / imaginary situation).
- To make a third conditional, use if + past perfect and would have + past participle.

If I'd known about the meeting, I would have gone.
If I hadn't gone to that party, I wouldn't have met my wife.
You wouldn't have been late if you'd got up earlier.
We would have arrived at 6.00 if we hadn't got lost.

• The contraction of had is 'd.

7B question tags, indirect questions question tags

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>positive verb, negative tag</th>
<th>negative verb, positive tag</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>It's cold today, isn't it?</td>
<td>She isn't here today, is she?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You're Polish, aren't you?</td>
<td>You aren't happy, are you?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>They live in Ankara, don't they?</td>
<td>They don't smoke, do they?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The match finishes at 8.00, doesn't it?</td>
<td>She doesn't eat meat, does she?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>She worked in a bank, didn't she?</td>
<td>You didn't like the film, did you?</td>
</tr>
<tr>

1 Describing your job

a Read the texts and match them to the pictures. What are the jobs?

1 I only work part-time – four mornings a week, and I sometimes do overtime on a Saturday morning. I don’t earn a big salary. It’s a temporary job and I only have a six-month contract at the moment. But the working hours suit me as I have very young children. When they go to school I would like to find a permanent job and work full-time. What I like most about my job is working in complete silence! The only noise you can hear is of people turning pages and whispering.

2 I did a six-month trading course at Technical College to get my qualifications and then I worked for a local company to get some experience. I worked long hours for a low salary and so I resigned last year and became self-employed. I prefer working for myself. I don’t work regular hours (sometimes people call me in the middle of the night) but you can earn a lot of money in this job, especially in the winter. If I’m lucky, I’ll be able to retire when I’m 60!

b Match the highlighted words in the texts to definitions.

1 a written legal agreement
2 the knowledge you get from doing a job
3 a series of lessons to learn to do a job
4 the time you spend doing a job
5 working for yourself, not for a company
6 to stop working when you reach a certain age, e.g. 65
7 left a job because you wanted to 8 lasting for a short time
9 for only a part of the day or the week
10 exams you’ve passed or courses you’ve done

2 Saying what you do

Complete the Prepositions column.

1 I work a multinational company.
2 I work a manager.
3 I’m charge of the marketing department.
4 I work a factory.
5 I’m responsible for customer loans.
6 I’m at school / university.
7 I’m in my third year.
